The village of Mt. Prospect has a new industry tract of 136 acres. It probably means that many industries will locate in Arlington's front yard.

At least Arlington can be good sports and congratulate the Mt. Prospect school district on the financial aid that will eventually come their way.

With the permission of Henry F. Heine, of Elgin, we are republishing in the "Way Back When" this week an account of his wedding 45 years ago. Mr. Heine tells us that the late H. C. Paddock attended the wedding and wrote the account.

Those who read it will be interested in the brand of journalism the story portrays.

Louis Clark, retiring Wheeling township thistle commissioner, says that between subdivisions and the raise in the value of land use, the crop of thistles is much less than it was 20 years ago when he first took over the job.

Increased value of farm land and pride of rural suburbanites are putting an end to former weed spots.

"I am not my brother's keeper," is reported to have been the answer given last Friday night by Otto Stephani at a rezoning hearing at Mt. Prospect village hall. He had been asked if he intended to do anything to aid the school district in which he intended to "release" several hundred $7,000 homes.

The rezoning asked by him is being opposed by local taxing units on the plea that they will be unable to service the development with either schools or fire protection.

The county highway department made it known the Northwest Expressway, as scheduled, will bisect the property.

We hope the county zoning board of appeals and the county board will turn a deaf ear to the developer, even if Attorney Zaleski says it cannot be legally denied. The interests of public welfare should come first.

Here is some good news on Campbell street widening. The only real objector is the owner of several lots, now used for residential purposes on the north side of Campbell.

A few other property owners are asking for a clarification of the engineers' plans. It appears that the widening can be accomplished before snow flies.

"A good time was had by all," tells the story of the visit of eight German editors to the plant of Paddock Publications and Arlington Jockey Club last Thursday.

Bob Henderson, general manager of the racing plant, personally guided the visitors through the big racing plant, giving them an inside view of its operation.

Pan American Airways surprised the visitors by handing them a few of those $2.00 bills that are so closely identified with mutuels, which may or may not have introduced the recipients to the mutuel system as practiced in the United States.

"I never thought I would see anything like this in America," were the words of Karl Wiegner, assistant editor of Telegraf, Berlin. "How come there are so many people here, doesn't anybody work?"

Mr. Wiegner, who was the only visitor who could not talk fluent English had been provided with an interpreter in the person of Wm. Kehe Jr. of the Palatine postoffice.

Berlin has two race tracks, but neither sees much heavy wagering as at Arlington. Wiegner told Kehe the mark exchange rate is four for a dollar. Although a German mark will buy as much in plentiful goods as our dollar, a good suit of clothes costs over $200 and a pair of shoes $64.

The wage earner is taxed heavily for the support of the great number of unemployed and the refugees that enter West Germany.

The Fairchild Scanagraver and the teletypesetter in operation at Paddock Publications were of special interest to the visitors. A special edition of Cook County Herald telling of the German editors' visit to the printing plant, has been mailed to the home offices of the visitors.

"I am amazed to see a town this size with the old time patriotic spirit as evidenced by this parade," J. Robert Buechner, new village manager said to Mayor Goedke as they and Nelson Hauff, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, rode in a limousine at the head of the parade.

In 1926 Arlington Heights, in a contest conducted by a Chicago newspaper, won the honor of holding the greatest July 4 celebration of any suburban community of Cook County. That same spirit again manifested itself last Sunday.

Merle Guild American Legion Post gave Arlington Heights and surrounding areas a real Fourth of July celebration. It could not be called a money making project because there are little returns, but the birthday of our country was properly celebrated in Arlington. Contributions to the fireworks fund are still being received, upon the extent of which will depend a repetition next year.

3 More Subdivision Plats Submitted For Approval

Three plats for small subdivisions were submitted to the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night, all of which were turned over to the planning commission for further study.

One plat contained 24 lots and the proposed subdivision is located on W. Campbell and Dwyer ave., lying north of Campbell and west of Dwyer. Marcy Construction company submitted the plat.

THE BEST BUILT company submitted the second plat which contained 58 lots located north of Foundry rd., just east of the Stonegate subdivision. Lot sizes on the plat varied from 66x214 to 66x131.

The third was a tentative plat for the Oscar Craig subdivision, containing 7 lots on the east side of S. Salem ave., between Campbell and Sigwalt. Lot sizes are 66x183.

Village engineers were given the green light to prepare plans and specifications for the widening of Davis st. from Vail to Highland, Wing st. from Vail west to the end of the village property, and the installation of curb and gutter along N. Walnut ave., from Euclid to Mueller st. The work is to be done out of motor fuel tax, as these are all arterial streets and the adjoining property is owned by the village or school.

A BUILDING permit for a commercial building on S. State rd., to be erected by Edward Mayer of the Northwest Ornamental Iron Works, 403 S. State rd., has been held up by the village board. The frontage of the property has never been dedicated to the village, and being private property the village would have no control over sidewalks and water mains servicing the building.

The board postponed further action until Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal investigated the possibility of condemnation proceedings to get the frontage rights for the village. Mayer's father, John Mayer, owns the property and does not want to make the dedication.

J. Robert Buechner, village manager, attended his first village board session and received information on a long list of items which must have immediate attention. The board authorized that a $5,000 bond be taken out in his name, which is provided for in the ordinance creating the office of village manager.

The board also approved of alterations to be made on the second floor of the village hall, which will provide office space for the village treasurer and the village manager.

THE VILLAGE board concurred on the recommendation of the zoning board of appeals to permit a variation in the zoning ordinance to permit a private parking lot on residential property. The lot, bounded by Fremont, Walnut and Euclid, is to provide parking for residents of the Arlington Gardens apartments, which are being constructed across the street by William E. Trude. Trude told the board the lot would be properly surfaced and landscaped.

Bang Up Fourth Thrills 12,000 At Arlington

The one day Fourth of July festival sponsored by the American Legion, Merle Guild Post 208, Arlington Heights, was climaxed Sunday night when a crowd of nearly 12,000 entered Recreation Park to see the fireworks display, which was the most colorful and loudest this village has ever had.

Festivities started at 1:30 p.m. with a parade, the line of march being almost six blocks long. Participating were the George Washington Post drum and bugle corps of Chicago: boy, girl, cub and brownie scouts; military unit from O'Hare field; marine contingent from Glenview Naval air station; Lions; Kiwanis; Legion and VFW members and their auxiliaries, students from the Delores Eiler school of dancing; several business houses; village officials; firemen and equipment, and youngsters who decorated bikes and wagons for the occasion. Hundreds of people lined the streets to view the parade.

OTHER EVENTS during the afternoon included the kiddies field day with $125 in prizes and 1500 Pepsi Colas given to all participating; ball game; water ballet; band concert, and the crowning of the Legion Queen and her court. Cash prizes totaling $25 were also given for the best kiddie day costumes.

Miss Adrena Murray was the "Queen for the Day" and her court consisted of runners up, Doris Rudolph and Judy Guilfoil. Miss Murray was presented with a $100 bond, 21 inch TV set, luggage, her gown, clock radio, trophy and flowers. She polled 2,378 votes. The runners up each received a $50 bond and a clock radio.

The $100 prize offered by the Trude Youth Fund was split among Boy Scout Troop 37, Cub Pack Troop 67, Girl Scout Troop 95 and Brownie Troop 272, which were among the nine troops represented in the parade.

GORDON GULLICKSEN, 16, of 1020 N. Chicago ave., Arlington Heights, was the lucky winner of the red Chevrolet convertible, which was given away at midnight. He had only purchased one ticket on the car and was present at the car booth when his name was drawn by the festival Queen. Needless to say, he took the Queen home after the festival.

The Legion is to be commended for the fine job they did to make possible the celebration of Independence Day in Arlington Heights. From all appearances the general public enjoyed every minute of it, and the kiddies will be talking for a long time about the parade, games and fireworks that made the Fourth of July one of the safest and most exciting ones they have had in years.

THE LEGION has not been able to defray the cost of fireworks and anyone still wishing to make a contribution may send it to: Merle Guild Post, No. 208, American Legion, Box 2, Arlington Heights.

Last, but not least, this paper wishes to commend Chief Carl H. Skoog and his police officers who did a wonderful job directing the parade and controlling the traffic which filled the park area during the festival. Not one mishap was reported as a result of the festival, and that's quite a record for a crowd of 12,000.

Render Accidental Verdict In Death Of Man Killed By Train

A verdict of accidental death was given by the coroner's jury Thursday morning following the inquest into the death of Edwin Porter Olson, 50, Chicago, who was killed by a Chicago and North Western train at the Arlington Park depot June 27.

Porter, who was unmarried and employed as a meat cutter, had apparently boarded a northbound train when he wanted to take a southbound, and discovering his error, he probably attempted to get off the train, which had already started out of the station.

Charles E. Keyes, conductor, related at the inquest that he was first attracted to the man by yells from people standing on the platform. He yelled to the man to "Lie flat!" and then proceeded to pull the emergency cord. The next thing he heard was several bumps and he realized the train steps must have hit him.

County highway police James L. Brodie and Gerald Reiter investigated the accident and Dr. B. T. Best of Arlington Heights pronounced the man dead. His body was badly mutilated.

The inquest was held at Black's Memorial Home in Arlington Heights. Porter is survived by his mother, three brothers and a sister. Funeral services were held in Newark, Ill.

Wheeling Township Thistle Commissioner Resigns; Poor Health

Louis Clark, who has acted as Wheeling township thistle commissioner for many years, has resigned because of ill health. The township board will meet Friday evening to appoint a successor to Mr. Clark. He was first appointed in 1935 at which time he needed an assistant.

Persons interested should leave their applications at the township office, 104 E. Northwest Highway, before 8 o'clock July 9.

11 to 1 Prefer One-Way Streets In Arlington

One-way streets took a definite lead over the two-way system in Arlington Heights as ballots poured into the publication office the past week end. As of Wednesday noon 123 ballots had been returned, 112 favoring one-way streets, compared with 11 favoring the two-way system.

The return to two-way streets followed an appeal made by the businessmen who told the village board they were losing considerable business due to the one-way system, which had been in effect approximately 6 months. They said sales had fallen off and customers protested against one-way streets because they were too confusing.

MANY OF the ballots returned contained comments on why the person voted as he did. Those preferring two-ways remarked: "I like them much better, quicker, keeps traffic in the business district instead of all around it to get where you want to go." "It's less confusing." "There is plenty of parking space if some of the shoppers want to park a few blocks away, that's no hardship," "One-way too confusing, must drive blocks out of the way. Would prefer to shop elsewhere where one-way streets are not used. More traffic can be handled on two-way streets." "More parking, not so much congestion." "Driving in from north side of town I have to go 4 block out of my way to get back home because of one-way streets."

MORE BALLOTS being received favoring the one-way, there naturally were more comments why. Here are some: "Traffic has a better chance to move and park." "When do we go back to one-way streets? It can't be too soon." "The best way for our narrow streets, but certainly not the solution. Widen streets, get off-street parking and then the two-way streets could again be resumed. At present they are a mess!" "Less dangerous for pedestrians crossing the street." "We liked one-way much better, please put it back." "Parking decidedly easier." "Easier driving, progressive, fewer accidents." "The congestion at train time is obvious now — the parking impossible."

"I'll have to shop elsewhere with our two-way streets." "A giant step backward for Arlington. We go elsewhere to shop now." "There is much less congestion with one-way streets. I cannot agree with businessmen that this has been the cause for loss of business. They should be restored." "I'd rather drive to Mount Prospect than get involved in the existing mess." "Tell the merchants the women won't spend a dime 'till their car is parked." "Never realized how good it was until they changed back." "After four trips around the block today, we gave up and went to Mount Prospect." "As a pedestrian, not a driver, it is easier to cross streets for me and my children."

Trustee Bronwell To Speak At Arlington Greens Association Meet

Arlington Greens Community Association has extended an invitation to Richard Bronwell, village trustee, to be guest speaker at the association's meeting, July 13, at 8 p. m. at the junior high school.

RICHARD BRONWELL

Bronwell, a University of Chicago graduate, has resided with his wife and daughter in Arlington Heights for five years. He is owner and president of the Bronwell International Export company in Arlington Heights and is serving his second year as village trustee. During his first year, Bronwell, as trustee, acted as chairman of Arlington Heights police department. He is now chairman of the village sewerage department.

Bronwell will speak on the organization and functions of our village government. After the address he will answer questions of members and will preside as a moderator in an open discussion.

Direct Attorney Thal To Draw Up Contract With R. R. Company

Arlington Heights village board directed Attorney Thal Tuesday night to confer with the Chicago North Western railroad on a contract that would permit the installation of parking meters upon present commuter parking lots. The city manager was directed to recommend to the board the style of meter best suited for installation here.

The board is reluctant at this time to enter into a contract with the company for additional parking space in the parks. The village trustees have been told by the park board that it opposed any such use. Many individuals have also expressed their opposition.

The village board may widen Davis st. between Vail and Evergreen by moving the present curb to the railroad line, which might make possible a return of diagonal parking on that side of the street.

Widening of Campbell st. is a step nearer. July 23 has been set as the date for final hearing on the approval of assessment roll. Some changes have been made.

ZONING COMMISSIONERS

Mayor Albert W. Goedke appointed the following men to serve as zoning commissioners in Arlington Heights: Charles Wilson, 834 S. Belmont, chairman; Richard A. Hendricksen, 1009 N. Patton, William F. Meyer, 407 N. Dunton, Henry P. Wist, 837 S. Vail, Clarence A. Hendricksen, 743 N. Belmont, Charles J. Brost, 605 E. Rockwell, and John W. Anderson, 219 N. Lincoln.

Confession Of Boy And Girl Implicates Adult

The theft of a car by two Palatine boys, each 14 years old, has brought about confessions that may send a man 53 years old to prison on charges in support of which four girls of Stone Park and a girl and a boy of Palatine will testify for the grand jury July 7.

Another Palatine boy, 5½ years old, may be asked to repeat a story he told his mother of an incident that occurred in a partially completed house on the south side of Palatine several months ago.

The two youths who took the car are being held by juvenile court where they will be given a hearing July 13.

It was the father of one of the lads that appealed to Palatine police Chief Meyer to help him locate his son who had left home. The boy with a companion, was located two days later at Thomasville, Ga. when they attempted to sell a tire.

THE COMPANION in the theft of the car had taken part in the holdup at Old Settler's Inn at Roselle and Pratt ave. He was placed on probation which had just expired. The stolen car, a 1953 Chevrolet, was taken by the boys June 21 from the trailer camp opposite Morton Grove police station. The boys had decided to drive to St. Petersburg, Fla. They had little money when they left Chicago, but planned to secure more in the holdup job.

Within two days after Chief Meyer had issued the bulletin of the boys disappearance, he received a telephone call from Georgia police department reporting the pickup of two Palatine boys who had attempted to sell a tire. The theft of the car had been reported to local police departments.

The prone call from Georgia revealed its location and the insurance company was notified. The father of one of the boys at the request of Chief Meyer made the trip to Georgia to bring the boys home.

IN THE QUESTIONING given by Meyer as to the activities of one of the boys prior to the theft of the car, the name of Donald Howell of Melrose Park was given. In further questioning as to activities of Howell the names of four girls 12 to 16 years old of Stone Park were given, also one girl from Palatine.

In the questioning, the Palatine girl stated she had personally received $60 from Howell whom she said gave money to "all the girls".

He is reported to have given a horse to a 16 year old girl of Stone Park.

Lutheran Home Festival Sunday

Church Services, Fancy Goods Booth, Refreshments Special Features

The annual festival for the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged will be held Sunday on the grounds of the new Home on Oakton street, Arlington Heights.

Festivities for the affair, which is in the form of an open house, will begin with a 10:30 a.m. outdoor service. Rev. Martin Frick, St. Andrew church, Chicago, will be the principal speaker.

Refreshments stands on the grounds will open at noon and will serve complete meals, including ham, potato salad, barbecues, hot dogs, relishes, cake, coffee, ice cream and pop.

At 3 p.m. a second outdoor service will be held, with Rev. George W. Wittmer of the Messiah church, St. Louis, Mo., as guest speaker. Rev. Wittmer is one of the Lutheran Hour speakers. Music at this service will be supplied by the choir from St. Luke church in Chicago, and the Lutheran Harmony band of Chicago.

A FANCY GOODS booth will be another main attraction at the festival. It will contain items made by the Lutheran Sewing group of Arlington Heights, which meets at the Home every Wednesday of the year, just to make items for this booth. Among the many articles to be sold will be aprons, quilts, rag dolls, clowns, teddy bears, handkerchiefs and doll wardrobes.

This is the first year the festival will be held on Oakton st. and the spacious grounds of the new Home should prove a wonderful setting for this event. Since moving into the new Home last December the number of residents has increased to 117. In the old Home only 67 residents could be accommodated.

THE HOME is supported by nearly 300 churches of the Northern Illinois Missouri Synod, all of whom have been extended an invitation to attend this affair. This is mainly a social affair, with residents of the Home holding open house for their many friends. The general public is invited to join in the festival fun.

A shuttle bus will provide service for guests between the railroad and bus station in Arlington Heights, to assure those who cannot drive out to the Home a ride to and from the trains or buses.

Approve Rezoning of 136 Acres for Light Industry

Mount Prospect opened the doors to light industry this week, with the rezoning of Sol DiMucci's 136 acre tract between W. Central rd. and the railroad.

At Tuesday night's meeting, the village board concurred in the recommendation of the zoning commission that the land be used for industry. Before the rezoning was granted, DiMucci agreed by letter to certain requirements, including limitations on the space which may be used for buildings and setting aside certain areas for landscaping and parking, set-backs, and buffer zones. These will be included in the plat.

THE BOARD also concurred in two other recommendations of the zoning commission, and rezoned from residence to business the lots north of VanDriel's drug store on Emerson st. and the Fleetwood Homes property on Northwest hwy.

A new petition, asking to rezone lots along Prospect ave. from Kenilworth to 155 feet east of Lancaster to R-3 apartment classification, was referred to the zoning commission for public hearing. Owners are Robert Cusack and Robert Ermiger.

Opposition to the rezoning of the corner at Golf rd. and Main st. is already active. Although no date for the public hearing has been announced by the zoning commission, the village board is in receipt of a petition objecting to a gas station at this location. The owner has agreed by letter to dedicate a buffer strip as a public playground.

A 4.9 ACRE tract in Council Trail Estates, between Weller Creek and the south limits of the village near Wille st., was annexed, and the plat showing 16 lots was approved subject to an escrow agreement to cover the cost of public improvements.

An additional section of the Wego Park subdivision along W. Central rd. was also approved for annexation.

The board approved an amount of $987.50 as the village's share in the cost of paving the south half of the 700 block of S. Hi-Lusi ave. Residents have pledged $3,100 as their share of the cost.

Mr. Watson has long had a desire to enter government work. He served in the Pacific theatre during World War II. He has a son, Charles, who is a senior in Arlington Heights high school.

Scouts To Hold Paper Pick Up On North Side Saturday

Boy Scouts will pick up scrap paper and magazines on the north side of Arlington Heights starting at 9 a.m. Saturday. They would like to have all bundles on the curb early so they can finish before it gets too warm.

Paper from outlying areas can be brought to the North school grounds before 11 a.m.

A pick up will be made on the south side Saturday, July 17. This is the last chance for Arlington Heights residents to get rid of their old papers until the latter part of September.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

It certainly was a "grand and glorious" Fourth in Arlington Heights, thanks to the efforts of the American Legion.

From the afternoon parade to the fireworks at night and with the many events in between, the public-spirited legionnaires can well be proud of their contributions of the local celebration of Independence day. Without their usual carnival of five or six days to help pay for the "free" attractions, the men of the Legion depended upon one-day patronage at the games and refreshments booths and donations from interested villagers to make up the costs.

Popular as was the parade—which took honors among the viewers, the always-sensational fire trucks or the Delores Eiler School of Dancing float whose storybook characters tossed lollypops to the children along the route—the fireworks certainly were the number one attraction of the whole week end. Approaching Recreation park from any direction Sunday night found cars jamming the streets and filling every available parking space. The park area was, of course, literally a sea of people. The weatherman, too, cooperated by arranging that the wind didn't blow the smoke continually into people's eyes and noses as is so often the fate of observers of Fourth of July festivities.

If there were thousands watching the explosions in the park, think how many more chose to see what they could from upper story windows at home or simply to park cars at a good vantage point and observe from there. Surely attendance records, were there any way to figure them, would have been broken.

All in all, there is no question about it, from every angle this was a mighty successful Independence day week end.

Unusual Honor

Another honor and one of an unusual sort came to Paddock Publications last week when these papers, of which the Arlington Herald is one, were chosen as the weekly newspapers to be visited by a group of German editors here on a brief visit.

With their crowded schedule—they were to be in the midwest only five days—they "sandwiched" their trip to Arlington Heights among such places as Swift and Co., U.S. Steel, Curtiss Candy Co., as well as official dinners and receptions.

Learning process doubtless worked both ways as well—for the German visitors learned the ways and means of American weekly newspaper printing, and the staff at Paddock Publications had the opportunity to become acquainted with some leaders in their home communities of Berlin and Hamburg.

"Civic Duty"

Boys Scouts of Arlington Heights are not ones to shirk what they conceive to be their duty. All winter long they made regular paper pickups, benefitting the home owner who cleans out his basement and the scouts who augment their treasury. When the weather becomes warm, the pickup work becomes too hard on the boys to do as a regular thing and customarily they discontinue gathering paper during the summer.

However, this year, due to many requests, one midsummer pickup will be made. Scouts will get paper on the North side of town this coming Saturday and on the south side July 17.

Paper should be tied in "small-ish" bundles and placed on curbs by 9 o'clock in the morning.

Elk Grove Residents Jam Zoning Hearing

381 Sign Petitions Objecting To Low Cost Housing Project

Objectors to the proposed rezoning of 22 acres of land in Elk Grove township filled the Mount Prospect village hall Friday night where a hearing was being conducted by the Cook County zoning board of appeals.

The land lies east of the intersection of Higgins rd. and Oakton, and is bounded on the north line by Oakton and the south line by Higgins rd. It is presently zoned for farming and the petitioner, Carebuilt Acceptance Corp,, seeks to have it rezoned for residential purposes.

Otto C. Stephani, president of the corporation, while being questioned by his attorney, Frank P. Zaleski, told the zoning board his corporation intended to build prefabricated houses, manufactured by National Homes, and selling in the neighborhood of $7,000 to possibly $16,000 or $18,000. They would be placed on lots approximately 60x170 feet. The homes would be set on cement slab foundations and have two-bedrooms, kitchen-dining area, living room, bath and storage area, including a small storage space on the exterior. They would be constructed of frame material, and interior walls would be made of a specially treated wall board, which is said to be highly fire resistant, and serves as good insulation.

ONE WELL would provide water for each unit of 6 or 8 houses and either septic tanks or a new type of sewage disposal system offered by the Chicago Pump Co. would be used for sanitary service. The developer also said he would install roads where necessary, meeting with the county minimum requirements. Approximately 50 homes would be built on the site.

Everett Lewy, attorney for the Elk Grove Protective Ass'n, which is objecting to the rezoning, asked Stephani if the property were rezoned what proportion of it would be developed with the higher priced homes he mentioned. Stephani said he did not know, it depended entirely upon the demand of buyers. When asked what he intended to do, if anything, to help the school district out which must educate the children living in the subdivision, he replied he intended to do nothing, that "I am not my brother's keeper."

Witnesses testifying in behalf of the objectors pointed out that if the area were developed with low cost homes in great numbers it would be a definite burden on the Elk Grove Community school, which anticipates an enrollment of 340 by next fall. The new addition, which is to be built on the school this summer, will be filled to capacity within three years, providing no new families move into the district. Another witness said that adequate fire protection could not be given such a development because the rural fire department serving that area is not equipped to fight a fire which might spread rapidly through a subdivision of this type. Their equipment consists of one fire truck and one 1000 gallon water tank.

It was also pointed out that adequate police protection is also not available in unincorporated areas. Petitions, signed by 381 property owners and residents living in Elk Grove township, protesting to the proposed rezoning, were submitted to the zoning board.

CLARENCE PETERS, Palatine, spoke in behalf of the local division of expressways of the Cook County Highway department, to inform the zoning board that the land in question lies directly in the path of the proposed Northwest Expressway. If the expressway is built it would bisect the property, utilizing a 300 foot right-of-way. He said the plans have been approved by the County board, the state highway department and the Chicago Regional planning board. Land for the right-of-way is already being purchased as far west as Mannheim rd., which is a few miles east of the land in question.

This is the second tract of land the petitioner is attempting to have rezoned. The first is a 10-acre tract, directly south of the above 22 acres on Higgins rd. The Cook county zoning board of appeals recommended that the Cook county board of commissioners rezone the first 10 acres, which would permit the erection of 30 homes if approved. However, the county board, in view of the objections, postponed action on the recommendation until they held a further hearing on the matter. The hearing will be held at the July 26 meeting of the County board public service committee.

The zoning board of appeals set a limit of 10 days for the objectors and petitioner to submit further information on their appeals, which was not complete at the time of the hearing Friday.

'Compatability' Keeps Summer Conditioning Costs At Minimum

(Advertisement)

Home building trends indicate that the near future will find summer cooling as much an integral part of home comfort as winter heating. As more installations are made, air conditioning will become increasingly important as the mark of an up-to-date home. Real estate values are already dependent in part on whether air conditioning has been installed, and authorities in the building field believe that in five years a house without a year-round air conditioning system will be incomplete.

"The compatability of warm air heating with summer cooling should be of prime importance in planning a new home, in remodeling, or in choosing a new heating system for an older home," says Mr. Kraft of Circle-Aire. "In research tests at the University of Illinois it was proved that the ductwork used for winter heating with a forced warm air system can be used to distribute cooled air through the residence during the summertime. Naturally, installation costs will be less if the same distribution system can be used for both winter heating and summer cooling."

Mr. Kraft is a local member of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association which sponsors a continuous research program at the University of Illinois. From this research work, come the design and installation standards used by the industry to give home owners throughout the country the best possible indoor comfort conditions.

Mr. Kraft counsels that . . . "The wise home owner will ask his warm air heating dealer to plan for year round air conditioning even if a cooling unit is not going to be installed immediately. If proper provisions are made when designing warm air heating system duct work to provide adequate air carrying capacity to meet the summer cooling needs of the house, the cooling unit can be added to the system at anytime in the future without incurring additional alteration expense."

Warm air heating units are presently being made in a variety of types, to meet the space requirements of the many different kinds of new and older homes. They are made to fit in attics, basements, crawl spaces, in first floor heating closets or utility rooms. The same flexibility of location is now possible with cooling units which can be installed either as part of the original installation or at a later date.

GEORGE SCHIMMING

George Schimming has been selling gas and oil in this area for 28 years. He started working for the other fellow in 1926. Four years later he started to operate his own truck for the Lake Cook Supply Co. Nine years later he opened his own station on Eastman street. That home station has become only a branch today.

In 1945 he purchased the bulk plant at Mount Prospect from which seven trucks operate today and handle Conoco fuel products.

George may have 12 on the payroll, but he is the man who answers those emergency calls on cold winter nights when somebody forgot to order oil. The Schimming stations are not open 24 hours a day, but they have gained a lot of customers by such service when the occasion arose.

"Let George do it," may be a familiar expression, but many times it is George Schimming who has to do the civic jobs that somebody else is too busy to handle. He is a glutton for punishment and can never say no.

He has been a member for 27 years of the Arlington Heights Lions Club in which he has given a lot of service.

He left yesterday on his first plane flight. His destination was New York; the purpose, International convention. Members of the local Lions club know that there will be no delegate there who can outshout George.

Mr. Schimming also is a member of the Men's club of the Lutheran church and was its president for two years.

JOHN HEINTZ

When John Heintz arrived in Arlington Heights from Chicago, he brought with him a box of tools, an air compressor and three spray guns. He had rented quarters at 13 E. Davis st. He cannot understand today how he had nerve enough to give up a good job in Chicago to locate here.

"I guess I had a little bit of Tom Sawyer in my blood," he said.

Today he has four trucks and operates a body and fender shop in his own building at 201 W. Campbell st. He felt rather proud when shortly after locating in Arlington he was able to pick up a six year old Chevrolet army truck.

"That truck is still in operation and requires less maintenance than any of my others," says Johnny.

He employs six men. He practically keeps his shop open 24 hours a day by the installation of duplicate short wave police equipment in both his home and shop.

Heintz considers two customers a day is sufficient to keep the wolf away from his door. Summertime is expected to be their busy season, but not this year. He explains the decrease in the number of calls he receives to the possibility that all crazy drivers are either in the hospital or dead.

Some people think that Heintz does not go to bed if indications are that the weather is right for wrecks. He says, "I enjoy sleeping too much to do that."

Werner Reese is the boy who takes over the job when John is away, and John says, "I credit most of the efficiency in the way the shop is run to Werner's expert help. He's really my 'right arm' whether I'm on the job or away on one of the several fishing trips I enjoy each year."

Mr. and Mrs. Heintz have two sons, John, who is helping his dad when he is not in high school, and Jeffrey, 13 years old.

The Adult choir of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will hold its annual ice cream social July 18 from 3 to 9 p.m.

Weather permitting, the affair will be held on the church grounds. In case of rain, it will be held in the school dining hall.

Methodist Young Adults Plan Picnic

The Young Adults of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will hold their annual family picnic July 10 at 2 p.m.

Those attending will meet at the church at 2 p.m. and then go to Deer Grove, where they will enjoy fellowship, games and prizes.

Faciilties wil be available to cook outside and coffee will be served. Families are asked to bring their children and their own supper.

Orchard Place May Form Own Sanitary District

A committee organized in Orchard Place to study the possibilities of forming a sanitary district received approval following a special meeting of the Glen Plaines Civic Association to discuss and explain the school board referendum which will ask for a $23,000 bond issue for sanitary improvements for the Orchard Place school.

Women's Organizations Combine Efforts For Chest X-Rays July 14-16

Tuberculosis strikes twice as many men as women, the Tuberculosis institute reprots. For that reason, men are particularly urged to take advantage of the free chest X-rays available in Arlington Heights July 14 through 16. The institute also pointed out that two-thirds of all TB cases are found in persons 35 years of age and over.

"While everyone, 15 years of age and over, is urged to have a free chest X-ray," said Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, executive director of the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium district, "those persons in their middle age especially need an annual chest X-ray. TB is usually symptomless in the early stages, but through yearly chest X-rays the disease may be detected at its onset when treatment is easier and recovery faster . . . and when the spread of infection can be stopped promptly. X-rays can also detect other chest conditions such as lung cancer and heart disorders."

The survey is sponsored by the nurses' club of the Arlington Heights Public Health committee. Mrs. Marvin H. Rodewald is chairman and Mrs. Marion Bloecker, co-chairman. It is part of the county-wide X-ray for Health program, conducted jointly by the Christmas seal-supported Tuberculosis institute and the SCCTSD.

Volunteers have been recruited from the following groups to assist at the unit by the Public Health Committee and their representatives: Woman's club, the Nurses club, the St. James Catholic women's guild and the VFW auxiliary.

Here's Scouting

With Explorer Scouts Bill Hogate and Ken Petelle

Highlights of Gander Mountain Trip Told

Wilbur Granzin, scoutmaster of troop 53, Mount Prospect, told of highlights experienced on the Gander Mountain, Illinois, excursion his troop took several weeks ago.

Gander Mountain is the second tallest peak in Illinois.

Private property, Gander Mountain lies at the junction of the Fox River and Wisconsin border.

The excursion was a Saturday, Sunday affair.

Saturday eve saw Troop 53, accompanied by Wilbur Granzen and Bill Freer, hiking across the Wisconsin border from Gander Mountain to Wilmont, Wisconsin. At Wilmont, the nine boys, along with their leaders, thrilled to stock car racing at a near-by race track.

Sunday afternoon the boys built a dam across a spring fed stream. This endeavor afforded an excellent swimming hole.

Some time ago the nine top rated scouts, in Troop 53, enjoyed a four day excursion at Kettle Marine, Wisconsin.

Troop 53 should be commended for their forward move in scouting activities.

107 Anticipating Region 7 Venture

Reliable sources reported recently tentative plans for Post 107's Region Seven boy scout canoe trip.

Region Seven Boy Scout canoe base is the highlight of Explorer Scouting, and every one concerned in Post 107 is anxiously anticipating the departure for the canoe base.

Ron Garr, the voyager selected to lead the post, will leave for Region 7 canoe base, Wisconsin, July 9, for an intensive canoemanship training course.

The ten Explorer Scouts participating in this event will depart by motorcade, with William J. Harrington, July 21, and arrive at home August 2.

Further developments on this excursion will be reported direct from Region Seven by your Here's Scouting special representative, Bill Hogate.

Coming Soon

Coming soon as a regular portion of this column is a new feature called "Meet Your Leader," an informative and interesting account of our Scouting leaders in action.

Lack Of Water, Not Just Insects, May Cause Shade Trees To Be Sad

A shade tree that looks sad in August hasn't necessarily been attacked by insects or disease.

L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that shade trees also suffer from the heat and dry summer weather. So it isn't surprising that they lose some of their fresh, green spring look by late summer.

FOR EXAMPLE, sycamores are commonly hit by anthracnose in cool, wet springs. The disease hurts their beauty but does not do serious damage. You can suspect anthracnose when new leaves die and drop off the tree. You can get good control of this disease with three well-timed sprays. But some people may prefer simply to burn the leaves. It is less effective than spraying but will help to break the life cycle of the spores that cause the trouble.

Another common beauty destroying feature of shade trees are the galls that you'll find on the leaves of maple, oak, hackberry and hickory trees. They are caused by various insects, but are not so harmful to the trees as they are to its looks.

LEAF SCORCH is a still more common problem, especially in cities, where trees are damaged by reflected light from buildings, sidewalks and streets. Leaves die from scorch when the tree cannot supply enough moisture from the ground to keep the leaves fresh. You can help to prevent this condition by thinning the crown so that the tree doesn't have so many leaves to supply water to, or by fertilizing and watering so that the tree is in better condition to combat scorch. A sign of real trouble, Culver says, is sudden wilting and loss of leaves from an entire branch. Then the tree may have been hit by a serious disease, or borers may be girdling the trunk.

Swims To Shore After Plane Crash

George Rockwood, 36, of Route 66, Downers Grove, swam four miles to safety through the choppy waters of Lake Koshkonong one night last week after his airplane crashed into the Wisconsin lake.

An uncle, Clarence Howard and a cousin, Mrs. Mary E. Vorwald, both of River Falls, Wis., stayed with the sinking plane while Rockwood made the 3½ mile, four-hour swim to get help.

On reaching shore, Rockwood phoned the Jefferson county sheriff's office and a Coast Guard cutter was quickly dispatched to pick up Howard and Mrs. Vorwald.

Business Loans Drop At Banks

Reflecting moderately lower levels of business plus usual seasonal influences the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports that Midwest business loans dropped sharply during the first 24 weeks of 1954. In a survey of 44 leading seventh district banks, net loans to business decreased about 180 million dollars through mid-June. This is twice the year ago decline.

Sharpest contrast between 1954 and prior years was found in the borrowings of metal and metal products firms. These loans have declined at leading district banks at a 6 million dollar a month clip over the past year, while in preceding months they expanded at about a 21 million a month rate. Major causes of this net loan liquidation, the bank says, have been the sharp cutback in defense work and reduced demand for consumer durables.

CONSUMER LOANS are still above 1953 levels at leading Midwest banks. Nevertheless, installment debt outstanding has dropped off substantially since the first of the year, partly reflecting moderately lower auto sales.

Real estate loans of all types, on the other hand, have climbed steadily in the past year in response to the continuing boom in construction. Lower interest rates and more liberal terms for borrowers have been an important prop in the sustained high level of home building.

Farm loans dropped about 8 per cent from year ago even though farm real estate loans increased moderately. The decrease in farm loans, however, was not uniform throughout the district. Slight gains were registered in most areas of Wisconsin and some parts of Michigan and Indiana. Declines were heaviest in areas where cattle feeding is important.

PRICE SUPPORT loans on farm commodities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Commodity Credit Corporation increased sharply, reflecting the large amounts of commodities placed under such loans in the past year. Reserve System member banks in the Seventh district held nearly 400 million dollars of CCC loans in April as compared with almost 100 million a year earlier.

Home Bureau Nets $350 For Byrngelson Fund

The freezer demonstration sponsored by the Mt. Prospect Home Bureau for the benefit of the Bryngelson fund has already netted in excess of $350 with small contributions still coming in.

Thanks to the cooperation of many in the community, there was no overhead expense and all the money donated has been deposited for Mrs. Bryngelson. She is a polio victim and wife of the late Rev. Paul W. Bryngelson of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church, who died suddenly April 17.

The demonstrator, Miss Welschmeier, appeared through the courtesy of International Harvester Co. with Garlisch and Sons of Arlington Heights delivering a refrigerator-freezer for her use. VFW and Auxiliary donated the use of their clubhouse, chairs, and dishes. Through Mr. Meeske's efforts, those attending enjoyed free Coca Cola and ice cream from the National Ice Cream Co, Mr. Beals furnished the Lily cups and Harold Kettel donated cake mixes which were baked and iced by Mrs. Kettel and Mrs. Oscarson. Prizes were given by Meeske's Grocery, Busse Florist, Haberkamp Florist, Anderson Florist, Arthur Tews, Arthur Crothers, Ray Stolzman, Busse-Biermann, Culligan, Helen's Beauty Shop, Golden's Delicatessen, Kirchhoff Insurance, Rainbow Cleaners, Wille Coal and Fuel, Northway Cleaners, Keefer's Pharmacy, and Henderson Pharmacy of Park Ridge. Members of the Girl Scouts offered to baby sit free so that mothers could attend and volunteers from the Boy Scouts helped with the serving and hall arrangements.

Mrs. Knutson of Minneapolis, mother of Mrs. Bryngelson, was present to pour and to draw the tickets for the awards. Mrs. Cricks spoke briefly saying that many friends are making a practice of depositing a dollar for Mrs. Bryngelson when they make their own deposit and that it would be deeply appreciated if more would like to do the same.

The committee composed of Mrs. Kinzler, Mrs. Henneberg, Mrs. Kettel, Mrs. Oscarson, Mrs. Lambert, and Mrs. Stolzman wants to thank the unit members, business men and townspeople who helped Home Bureau to help a worthy cause.

Reshingling Firm Dupes Elderly Couple

An elderly Mundelein couple has been duped by inferred promises of easy money into signing a contract with a Chicago firm to have their home reshingled.

The couple was told their home would become a "model home" and $50 would be subtracted from their bill for every other home owner who signed a contract with the firm after seeing the original construction job.

Save Those Shirtboards! They Have A Wide Variety Of Uses In The Home

Shirt boards, those cardboard backing sheets used by laundries to protect shirts from the time they are pressed until they are stored in dresser drawers by the homemaker, have many uses in the home.

Many males, according to American Institute of Laundering, educational and research center for the laundry industry, are in the habit of slipping such shirtboards from their laundered shirts and dropping them in the waste basket, ignoring the fact that they have a valuable variety of uses.

HOMEMAKERS will find many uses for the lowly but versatile shirtboard when they prepare food for the family. Vegetables or fruit for salads can be cut or peeled on one of the boards. The board makes a nice cutting surface, absorbs juices lost in cutting, and makes a sturdy wrapping when folded around the peelings and disposed without mess.

Shirtboards are stiff enough to hold sweepings when no dust pan is handy, and if you're building a home, save those shirtboards to pick up wood shavings, plaster, and dirt and mud tracked into the house.

ANOTHER VARIETY of uses, the Institute says, occurs when there is painting to be done in the house. When painting windows the shirtboard can be held over the glass so it will receive the excess paint. Boards can also be used as a guide or straight edge and as "splatter boards" under paint cans.

The shirtboard can also be used under potted plants to protect the painted or varnished window sill or can be placed on the newly scrubbed or waxed floor to prevent tracks or scuff marks.

Ever have to keep the children in the house because of rainy weather? Those shirtboards you've saved will come in handy for them to use in coloring, making puzzles or for building houses or boats.

SHIRTBOARDS can be used as picture backing when mounting photographs or paintings, as protection from sleet or snow if held in place by the windshield wiper on the family car.

Those whose tastes run to stencils can draw their own original designs on shirtboards. It is then an easy matter to cut and paint them on nursery, kitchen and bathroom walls.

The new playground area will receive its baptism under fire this weekend at the Palatine Legion-Lions carnival. The area at the Oak street school in Palatine was given a new topping of oil and gravel last week, through the cooperation of the Legion, Lions, park district, and Ed Haseman.

The entire crew was happy to see the photographer, headed by foreman Mern Gennarelli, cleaning his glasses at the right. After the carnival is gone the area will be a playground for the children, both during and after the school years. —Staff Photo.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. If tea is served and a guest does not care for it, would it be all right for this guest to ask for a cup of coffee?

A. Not unless the hostess asks if he or she would prefer coffee. Otherwise, drink the tea, or part of it, and express no preference.

Q. Who terminates the call in business telephoning, the person who calls or the person who is called?

A. The person who puts in the call. However, if the call is of social matters, and the business of the person called is interfered with, he may with perfect right terminate the call.

Q. How should one point the prongs of the fork when cutting and placing food in the mouth?

A. The prongs should point downward while cutting the food, and upward when lifting the food to the mouth.

Q. Is it obligatory to reply to letters of condolence?

A. Yes; send a brief note of thanks to everyone who has sent flowers or personal letters.

Q. Is it good manners to use the handkerchief while at the dinner table?

A. This is not so much a question of "good manners" as of "necessity." When one absolutely has to use a handkerchief, one should try to use it as inconspicuously and noiselessly as possible.

Q. When a man is sitting at a cocktail bar, is it necessary that he tip the bar man?

A. While not exactly necessary, it still seems to be expected in many places — especially when one's change is returned to one in a small tray.

Q. Where should a host's wife sit when they are taking a visiting couple driving?

A. She and the visiting wife should sit together in the back seat.

Q. If one is in doubt as to whether an invitation can be accepted, how should the acknowledgment be worded?

A. The acknowledgment must state definitely whether the invitation is accepted or regretted. It is imperative always that a decision be reached before answering.

Q. If a bride displays all her wedding gifts, should she leave the cards attached to them?

A. This is entirely optional. She must be careful, though, to have a complete indentification of each gift before removing any cards.

Q. When one has finished eating cereal, should the spoon be left in the cereal bowl?

A. No; place it on the saucer under the bowl.

Q. What would be the correct way for two unmarried sisters to register at a hotel?

A. They should register: "Miss Jane Wilson, Miss Betty Wilson, Detroit, Mich."

Q. If a girl, who is to be married, has no father, brother or male relative to give her away, would it be proper for her to ask her fiance's father to perform this rite?

A. This would be quite all right.

Q. What does a bride do with her engagement ring before the wedding ceremony?

A. She can either leave it at home when she departs for the church, or wear it on her right hand. The wedding ring should not be put on above the engagement ring.

Q. Is it out-of-date now to teach boys and girls to say, "Yes, ma'am" and "No, ma'am," and "No, sir" and "Yes, sir" to adults?

A. "Yes, sir" is still correct for a boy when speaking to his father or other men, but a girl should use the name of the person spoken to, as, "Yes, Mrs. Jones." The word, "Ma'am," is no longer in good form, and when a child doesn't know the name of the person, he should add something to "yes" or "no," as, "Yes, it is," or "No, I don't think so."

Q. Is it permissible to sip water while one has food in his mouth?

A. No; this is considered bad manners. Only when one has taken a bite of food into the mouth that is too hot to handle is a sip of water condoned.

Q. When introduced to a person for the second time, what should one say?

A. You may say, "I've already had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Smith," or, "I think I met Mr. Smith last month."

Q. Is it really necessary to explain the reason for refusing an invitation?

A. Yes, unless you really want nothing further to do with the person extending the invitation. "I'm sorry, but I have another engagement" is usually good form.

Q. Should a wedding invitation be mailed to the bridegroom's parents?

A. Most certainly. They are as much entitled to this courtesy as any other guests.

TAX FACTS

A toll bride to nowhere, constructed on dry land and ending at the bank of the river it was supposed to cross, stands in Nebraska as a monument to the U. S. army engineers.

This toll bridge to nowhere was intended to connect Decatur, Nebraska, and Onawa, Iowa, which are on opposite sides of the Missouri river north of Omaha. Without a bridge crossing, residents of either town had to travel 80 to 100 miles to reach each other; with a bridge the distance would be reduced to almost eight miles.

Application was made to the army engineers in 1946 for a permit to build the bridge (a permit was necessary because the Missouri is a navigable waterway under Army jurisdiction). Approval was given by the army engineers in 1949.

Before construction was started, a shift in the river's channel to the east was noted. The bridge commission's consulting engineers suggested a change in bridge location. The army engineers objected, and gave assurance that the river would be returned to its original channel.

The bridge was deliberately constructed on dry land, over the original river channel, with the river actually flowing in a channel east of the bridge approach. Then, efforts to get the river back into its original channel under the bridge were ineffective.

Now the bridge commission is trying to get federal aid from Congress to the tune of two to two and a half million dollars to put the river back under the bridge as promised by the army engineers.

Mainwhile, residents of the two towns continue to make their 100-mile detour to reach each other, and the holders of the $1,970,000 toll bridge revenue bonds hopefully wait for the river to be replaced so that traffic can move and tolls can be collected.

Is there a ? in your future? Remove it with U. S. Savings bonds.

Joan Lingren, Douglas Gilman Repeat Vows

Faith Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was the scene of a candlelight wedding June 12, when Miss Joan Carole Lingren became the bride of Douglas Hugh Gilman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick C. Lingren, 17 W. Davis st., Arlington Heights, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Gilman, 409 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights.

Rev. Edgar H. Behrens officiated at the double ring ceremony. Robert Languth of Des Plaines sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's traditional gown of Czechoslovakian pin point lace over skinner satin was fashioned with a cathedral length train and was trimmed with seed pearls and opalescent sequins. A juliet cap of lace, pearls and sequins held her fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Mrs. Roger Landmeier, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a silver gray silk taffeta gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Easterly of Barrington, cousin of the bride; Miss Judith Gilman and Mrs. D. Bruce Robinson, sisters of the groom, and Miss Geri Bailey. They wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor and carried bouquets of Hildegard roses.

Miss Jill Malany Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Johnson of Barrington, was the flower girl. She wore a bouffant pink dress and carried a basket of roses.

James Giesler served as best man. Roger Landmeier; Donald Mueller, Ernest Simmons and D. Bruce Robinson were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a waltz length gown of pink lace trimmed with pearls and highlighted by a corsage of blue delphinium. The groom's mother chose an aqua gown of lace and crepe accented by a corsage of pale pink roses.

A reception and buffet supper was held in Buffalo Grove following the ceremony.

After a honeymoon in Florida, the couple will be at home in Bloomington, Ill., where the groom is enrolled in Illinois Wesleyan university.

The bride was graduated from Arlington Heights township high school in 1952 and was employed by All State Insurance Company. The groom, a 1950 graduate of Arlington Heights high school, spent three years as a paratrooper in the 187th airborne division in Japan and Korea. Since his discharge he has been employed by the Northern Public Service Company.

Both Sandra and Christine attend Sunday school at Immanuel Lutheran church in Palatine.

Their little brother, Billy, is one year old. He is walking now and gets into everything. This young tot enjoys playing with stuffed toys, and he also likes to get into his sisters' toy chest and play with their blocks, trucks and dolls. Billy loves to be outdoors in his playpen.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Gutzmer of Des Plaines.

His younger brother, Keith, is four. Keith's ambition is to be a farmer when he grows up, and his favorite activitiy is driving his tractor. He also likes to build farms with his blocks.

Riding his tricycle and playing with cars and mechanical toys are other activities that Keith enjoys. He also likes to play in his swing set.

The boys have tropical fish as pets and take care of feeding them. Both Keith and Donald attend Sunday school at St. Peter Lutheran church.

Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer of Fox River Grove and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Butt of Americus, Ga.

Favorites For Flavor

Every connoisseur of good eating will delight in the two recipes being featured today.

One is for a savory and unusual Shrimp Curry, while the other is a rich and delectable dessert, Cream Cheese Pie. They are being shared with us by Mrs. William Fredrickson of Arlington Heights.

The Curry dish is a delicious combination of shrimp, mushroom soup, chopped onion and garlic, with curry powder, freshly ground pepper, salt and lemon juice as seasoning. Two ingredients which contribute additional flavor and zest to this dish and add to its uniqueness are raisins and sour cream.

If desired, lobster can be substituted for the shrimp. This tasty concoction is served over rice, and Mrs. Fredrickson usually accompanies Shrimp Curry with a tossed salad and rolls.

The dessert, Cream Cheese Pie, is another gustatory pleasure. A creamy combination of cream cheese, eggs, sugar and vanilla is baked in a graham cracker crust. It is removed from the oven, topped with a mixture of sour cream, sugar and vanilla and returned to the oven for an additional ten-minute baking period.

The pie is refrigerated, can be garnished with cherries if desired, and is served cold.

The Fredricksons live at 7 E. St. James in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Fredrickson is a busy housewife who finds time to do a great deal of baking and canning in addition to caring for two little daughters, Debra, 2½, and Kristin, 1½. She also belongs to the Mothers' club of St. Mark's Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect.

Shrimp Curry

2 tsp. curry powder
1 to 1½ lbs. cooked and shelled shrimp
¼ cup seedless raisins
4 tbls. thick sour cream
Few drops lemon juice

Saute chopped onion and garlic in butter. Add salt and pepper.

After onion is brown, transfer to double boiler. Add mushroom soup, shrimp and raisins. Heat thoroughly.

Just before removing from stove, stir in sour cream and lemon juice. Serve over rice.

Carolyn Kamphenkel Wed In Waukegan

Miss Carolyn Kamphenkel of Elmhurst, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Kamphenkel, 108 N. West st., Waukegan, became the bride of Robert Gale Nordstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Nordstrom of Elmhurst, June 12 at 4 p.m.

Rev. Kamphenkel, former pastor of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church of Arlington Heights, officiated at the marriage of his daughter along with Rev. Lawrence A. Gedcke of the First Congregational church of Elmhurst. The wedding took place at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church of Waukegan.

White mock orange blossoms, white peonies and candelabra banked the altar, and the pews were decorated with white satin bows and ivy. Wayne Staley sang "Ich Liebe Dick," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Homer Etchell at the organ.

The bride's gown of white swiss eyelet and embroidered organdy was fashioned with a three tiered bouffant skirt ending in a long train. The round neckline was scalloped and the sleeves, short. A Dutch bonnet held her tiered fingertip length veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of three amazon lilies on a white Bible with streamers of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William J. Bauer was the matron of honor, and Miss Gloria Jean Kamphenkel was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Schubert and Miss Dolores Nordstrom. Miss Dorothy Heimlich was the junior bridesmaid.

All the attendants wore ballerina length gowns of white cotton lace over blue taffeta. The gowns were fashioned with round necklines and cap sleeves. They carried white starched crocheted baskets of yellow daisies. The junior bridesmaid wore a white organdy gown and carried a cascade bouquet of blue daisies.

Robert Rucker of Elmhurst was best man. Ken Pinnow of Elmhurst, Bill Johnston of Lombard and Bill Kautt of St. Paul, Minn., were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kamphenkel wore a gown of beige lace over rose and a corsage of dark red American Beauty roses. Mrs. Nordstrom wore a beige lace gown and corsage of pink American Beauty roses.

A reception and supper for 200 guests was served at the Elks club in Waukegan. All decorations were made by the bride's mother.

The couple honeymooned in Minnesota and Canada and are now making their home at 138-B Fellows ct., Elmhurst.

The bride attended Elmhurst college, and the groom, who served in the paratroopers, is well known for his work with Elmhurst Community Theatre.

Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's aunts and uncles from Florida, Iowa and New Jersey and the bride's aunt, uncle and cousins from St. Paul, Minn.

Q. Is it proper for a girl to give her fiance a robe for his birthday?

A. Since he is her husband-to-be, this is entirely proper.

Girl Scout Day Camps Are Well Attended

More than 250 girls from the various towns within the boundaries of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook county attended the day camp sessions held for eight days during the past two weeks at Girl Scout house, Camp Pine and Deer Grove.

Highest registration of 167 was at Camp Pine; Deer Grove had 57, and Girl Scout house, 48.

Arlington Heights sent 51 girls; Des Plaines, 35; Lincolnwood, 2; Morton Grove, 11; Mt. Prospect, 16; Niles, 23; Palatine, 25; Park Ridge, 53; Prospect Heights, 11; and Skokie, 45.

With the willing help of 32 counselors, the three camp directors maintained smoothly functioning units in which the Brownies and intermediates found much fun in active and outdoor activities, and with new and old friends.

Learning about nature was simple and fascinating with naturalists scheduled to come once each week to hike with the girls and point out trees, plans, and flowers, and tell about animals, bugs and aquatic life.

Cookouts provided such interesting meals as one at Deer Grove in which the first course was a walking salad prepared by one troop; the main course of "Ring-Tum-Diddy" (a tasty concotion of corn, tomatoes and pepper) cooked by the Intermediates; and a delicious dessert of apple-taffies made by the horseshoe unit.

The last day at Deer Grove started with the customary flag-raising ceremony, singing songs, and then the dispersal to the troop camp sites for quiet handicraft (since Friday's temperature was high) or preparation for the last day program at 2 p. m.

The program took place in the natural setting of a tree-shaded hill-top. Featured were folk dancing, a skit on the imagining of how the Girl Scout laws came into being, humorous presentations of Girl Scout first aid and cooking, and songs.

Director at Deer Grove was Mrs. W. G. Johnson, Des Plaines; at Camp Pine, Mrs. A. E. Fink, Park Ridge; and of Girl Scout house, Mrs. J. J. Scharkopf, Park Ridge.

Des Plaines sent 10 counselors; Park Ridge and Skokie, each 6; Palatine and Morton Grove, each 3; Arlington Heights, 2; and Mount Prospect and Niles, each 1.

Names of regular counselors and part-time helpers from district IV were: Mrs. Gus Anderson, Mrs. Henry Grant, Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. I. A. Johnson, Mrs. Henning, Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman, Mrs. H. A. Lips, all from Arlington Heights; Mrs. G. C. Rowle, Mount Prospect; Mrs. Michael Garry, Inverness; Mrs. William Pedersen, Mrs. Richard Hansen, Palatine; Mrs. Raymond Dietrich, Prospect Heights. Members of the Palatine Nurses' association, Mrs. Odell, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Carpentier, aided.

The next sessions of day camp, providing similar activities for registrants, will be held July 20-23, 27-30 at Girl Scout house and Camp Pine. The last session starts August 17 and is at Girl Scout house. There is room for about ten more girls during this period. (B4

Libertyville Gains

A preliminary count in a census completed June 16 revealed that Libertyville has gained 1,136 new residents in the past 3½ years.

Mary Jean Stover Is Bride Of James Fischer

In a double ring ceremony June 26, Miss Mary Jeanne Stover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Stover, 507 N. Maple st., Mt. Prospect, became the bride of James S. Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Fischer of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bouquets of traditional white flowers formed the setting for the 10 a. m. service held at St. Raymond's Catholic church, Mt. Prospect. Rev. Thomas J. O'Brien officiated.

The bride's ballerina length gown of lace over taffeta was strapless and featured a shrug jacket. Pleated taffeta formed the empire waistline. A juliet cap of seed pearls held her fingertip length veil of hand embroidered lace in place. The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried a nosegay of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Michael Rafferty of Mt. Prospect was the matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of toast lace over satin. Her gown also had a shrug jacket, and she carried a nosegay of aqua carnations.

J. Peter Fischer of Monroe, Mich., brother of the groom, was best man, and Michael Rafferty of Mount Prospect was the usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Stover wore a beige nylon dress fashioned with an empire waistline and a cinnamon overskirt. The groom's mother's suit was ashes of roses in color. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony breakfast was served to members of the immediate family and the bridal party at Simson's restaurant. A reception for 75 guests was held from 2 to 4 p. m. at Simson's.

The couple honeymooned at the Dells and Devil's Lake, Wis., and are now making their home at 5453 Youngridge dr., Apartment 7, Pittsburgh 36, Pa.

The bride attended Audubon high school, Audubon, N. J., and was graduated from Baldwin high school, Pittsburgh, Pa. The groom was graduated from Brentwood high school, Brentwood, Pa., and is now with Joseph Horne and Co., Whitehall, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Out-of-town guests were from San Diego and Los Angeles, Calif., Pittsburgh, Pa., Monroe, Mich., Janesville, Wis., Dubuque, Iowa, Columbus, Ohio, and Freeport, Rockford, Des Plaines, Chicago, Park Ridge, Mount Prospect, Evanston and Loves Park.

Q. How soon after receiving an invitation to a large dinner party should one send one's acceptance or regret?

A. Immediately. Nothing is more inconsiderate or ill-bred than to keep a hostess waiting for a reply, since she must have time to invite substitute guests.

News of Rolling Meadows

HELENE BRISTOL, Editor — 2104 South Street — CLearbrook 3-8125

THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1954

Block Meetings

Two block meetings were held Thursday evening, July 1, in the recreation building of the Rolling Meadows grammar school. The meetings, which were held for the residents of the north side of Campbell st. and the east side of Dove st. in Unit 2, were very successful. Many of the questions and problems which had been causes for contention and worry for the new residents were discussed by Wing Groves, president of the Home Owners' association, and questions were answered from the floor. Two new block captains were elected by those present. They are Paul Jaeger of 2308 Dove st., who is the block captain for the east side of Dove st. (Unit 2), and Frank Knudsen, 2302 Campbell st., who is the block captain for the north side of Campbell st. Any residents of these blocks who would like advice or have any problems which should be brought to the attention of the Home Owners' association should contact their new block captains who will gladly assist them in any way possible.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hardung of 2306 Campbell st. are announcing the engagement of their daughter Lisa to Robert Utecht of Wausau, Wis. This is a real "Rolling Meadows" romance—the young people having met out here. Bob Utecht was visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Birt of 2307 Campbell st. when he met Lisa who lives across the way. Lisa is not only a newcomer to Rolling Meadows, but is a comparative newcomer to this country as well. She came from Germany only 2½ years ago to join her parents who had immigrated to the United States. The young people are planning their wedding for Saturday, July 31—the culmination of a Rolling Meadows chance meeting.

Community Church

Last Sunday, July 4, the Community church choir sang at the church services for the first time. The choir of 10 voices sang two hymns under the capable direction of Jay Dahm. The accompaniment for the choir renditions and the general hymn singing by those present was given by Jim Woodbury of the Glenview Community church. Mr. Woodbury will continue to devote his talents to the Rolling Meadows Community church until a local accompanist can be selected.

Choir rehearsal will be held July 12 at 8 p.m. at the recreation building of the Rolling Meadows grammar school. All people who are interested in singing are invited to attend. There is always a period of fellowship and refreshments following rehearsal, and it's a wonderful chance to get acquainted with neighbors doing a really constructive job.

The regular worship service of the Community church will be held in the recreation building at 11 a.m. Sunday. Attendance has been increasing each Sunday, which of course is very encouraging to those who are working so hard to establish this community-Protestant church. Mrs. Dorothy Churchill and her committee are continuing to provide nursery care and a period of creative work for children during the church services in one of the school buildings next door.

Out-of-Town Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schlaufman of Sigwalt st. have been entertaining Mr. Schlaufman's brother and his wife, who have been visiting here from their far-away home in Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schlaufman were former residents of Chicago whose work has taken them away from the mid-west, and they have been enjoying their visit with the family here as well as renewing old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schmidt of 2900 Dove st. have had a double-helping of out-of-town company. Last week the Schmidts entertained Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Skaralid and their children, Joanne and Jackie, of Minneapolis, Minn. Mr. Skaralid is a former co-worker of Mr. Schmidt at the Pullman company. This week the Schmidts are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Ryan of Dallas, Texas, their aunt and uncle. They held a welcome party for the Ryans Monday.

Flooding

After the severe storm last Saturday, several of the storm sewers were flooded here in the subdivision. Because of the seriousness of the situation, Kimball Hill himself visited Rolling Meadows to inspect conditions. Plans are underway to attempt to remedy the situation in the event of another severe storm. The accumulated waters receded rapidly as soon as the clogged storm sewers were opened.

While the problem of flooded yards and streets is a very serious one that will be given immediate attention, an even more serious problem exists with the flooding of a few of the homes under the houses themselves. If you have had or are having water leaking into the crawl space of your home, please notify Don Dahlquist, CL 3-0889, who is the chairman of the Improvements committee of the Home Owners' association. Mr. Dahlquist will make sure that these conditions are investigated immediately and that steps will be taken to correct the situation.

Ball Game

There will be a repeat game between the undefeated George st. "Wildcats" and their rivals, the baseball team from Sigwalt st. The repeat "performance" will be staged at the Arlington Heights high school athletic field at 11:30 a.m. Sunday. Needless to say, the teams would very much appreciate a goodly number of rooters out there to cheer them on—both to encourage them during the game and to raise their enthusiasm for that "after game" get-together which is always held.

Voting Registration

Don't forget the voting registration which will be held Friday, July 9, between 1 and 3 p.m. for those people who have been unable to attend the evening registration sessions. George Howes, Palatine township clerk, will be present at the recreation building of the grammar school at that time to register those voters who work in the evening or who find it more convenient to get out in the afternoon. The unusually heavy response to the evening registration sessions has made this afternoon session almost a "must"—a wonderful indication that Rolling Meadowites are taking their voting privileges seriously.

Boy Scouts & Cub Scouts

The Panther Patrol, Rolling Meadow Boy Scouts, spent quite some time, along with other members of Palatine troop 69, in building bridges across the creek in Deer Grove. The boys who participated in this work were Terry Loveless, Ken Keller, Steve Walker and Dan Hase. This work was the Panther Patrol's "good turn" for conservation this year.

Several members of the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts from Rolling Meadows, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Martin and Mrs. Peter Keller of Wilke rd. and Rev. Ringsmuth of the Community church, attended an outing July 1. The boys built their own fire, cooked their supper and did some swimming to round off the evening's activities. The outing was held to the west of Rolling Meadows at Beverly Lake which is just off Rte. 72—a spot which the boys enthusiastically recommend for a picnic site. Several of the boys who attended the outing were Terry Loveless, Danny Rajkowski, Terry Martin, Steve Walker, Bobby and Ken Keller, and Billy Adduci. Needless to say the outing was a huge success and the boys are looking forward to the next trip!

Mosquito Spraying

George Kitterman of South st., who is the chairman of the ways and means committee of the Home Owners' association was very concerned about the serious mosquito problem which faces us in Rolling Meadows. He investigated a plan for mosquito spraying—a service which costs approximately $350 per season for seven sprayings. Mr. Kitterman contacted Kimball Hill for assistance with this work, and Mr. Hill has graciously agreed to sponsor the mosquito spraying program not only for this year, but for next year as well. At the end of this two-year period it will become the responsibility of the Home Owners' association to see that the sprayings are continued. While we have a definite overabundance of the "dive-bomber" variety blood-sucking insect, several repeated sprayings should show a definite improvement in these conditions. A great deal of credit should be given to both Kimball Hill for his financial support and to George Kitterman for his ambition with this problem—efforts which definitely are for the betterment of our community.

Birthday Parties

That very important first birthday was celebrated by Bobby Bishop of Campbell st. last week. Bobby had plenty of company to help him celebrate, too! Both of his grandmothers were on hand—Mrs. Bishop of Des Plaines and Mrs. Ryerson who lives on Campbell st. here in Rolling Meadows. Bobby's aunt and uncle also live here in Rolling Meadows and they were on hand to note that one-year mark. They are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sterner of Campbell st. Other members of the family from Chicago also were present for the celebration.

Three-year-old Lselie Traub had a "bouns" birthday present for her third birthday June 29. Not only did she have a party for her little neighborhood friends, but her father, Les Traub, arrived home from the hospital that day to help her with the celebration. Leslie's little friends who were on hand for the celebration included Christie Anderson, Joan and Johnny Macior and Larry Piekarski. The nicest present of all though for Leslie was the arrival back home of her father. The victim of a recent automobile accident, Les had been in St. Francis hospital for a couple of weeks. Following an operation for the removal of a crushed kneecap, Les is now home, with his crutches, to recuperate. Les has truly become a one-man Rolling Meadows "chamber of commerce"—he swears he has never seen or heard of any community where everyone was so helpful or thoughtful as Rolling Meadowites were when he was hospitalized. He has asked that we include in the column a brief, but very inadequate, thank-you to everyone who has remembered him by card and telephone, and to those many people who offered assistance to him and his family while he was ill. Knowing how kind everyone has been, I can only add that it truly was an example of real community spirit in operation — a wonderful example of neighborliness and the Golden Rule.

Membership Drive

The membership drive of the Home Owners' association is now underway, and if you have not been "fortunate" enough to be contacted as yet, you undobutedly will be very soon. Fred Schultz of George st., who is the chairman of the civic committee of the Home Owners' association, doesn't believe in letting grass grow under his feet, however, by the time this paper goes to press, George st.—both blocks and both sides of the street—will have 100% membership in the Home Owners' association — certainly a tribute to Fred's salesmanship and "get-up" and to the civic awareness of the residents of George st.

Accident

During the extremely heavy race track traffic Monday a slight tie-up occurred on Wilke rd. To avoid hitting another car, one of the cars in the traffic line found it necessary to run up over the lawn of Frank Messina of Wilke rd. While only slight damage was done, only local residents who have slaved so hard and long over their lawns can appreciate Frank's feelings when he saw the car resting in the middle of his yard. Oh well, Frank, the racing season will be over soon (but apparently not soon enough!)

Building Program

In an effort to "keep up with the Joneses" on Wilke rd.—better known as "Garage Row" since so many new garages have been built —Pete Keller has started a building program of his own. Feeling that a garage was a little ambitious for this year, Pete felt that a building of some sort should be erected, and so a dog house for the family "pooch" was elected. Judging from the ambitions beginnings, then, as Pete says, he wants to keep it available for himself since it should be quite a dog house, but he so frequently arrives home at late hours after attending the Home Owners' association meetings!

News Wanted

It may sound like a "broken record" but please remember, this news column can only be as complete and contain as much news as is given to me. Please, if you have any family events or news of any kind, call me—my telephone number is CLearbrook 3-8125 and I would like very much to hear from you. If it is at all possible to publish your news it certainly will be done!

New Residents

Living in Palatine township is no novelty at all for the George Biermann family of 2410 Campbell st. Mr. and Mrs. Biermann and their family of three children were former residents of Palatine where they both still work—Mr. Biermann for the Palatine Transportation company and Mrs. Biermann for the Supper club. The Biermanns are the proud parents of two daughters—Cathy, who at 8 years old, is already in school, and Peggy, who is 4, and will be starting school before too long. The "baby" of the family, as well as their only son, is 2½-year-old Scott. The Biermanns are enthusiastic fishermen, but Mr. Biermann also enjoys most other sports as well as hunting. Mrs. Biermann gives a decided preference to bowling —after fishing, that is! Not all of their enthusiasm goes for sports, however—they are also enthusiastic over their new home in Rolling Meadows!

Other enthusiastic Rolling Meadowites are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roeing of 2300 Campbell st. Their enthusiasm, however, really has surmounted several "construction blues" difficulties—the flooding of their front yard and the trouble with their bathroom plumbing, which happened only two hours after they moved in! The Roeings are the happy parents of two fine young sons—Richard, who is 2½, and Randall, who is only 1 year old. Ricky was very disappointed when the dirt hills behind their house were leveled in the grading —the construction workers spoiled his playground. Mr. Roeing's "playground" is his camera—he loves to print and develop his own pictures. Mrs. Roeing's interests lie in a little more domestic track —she likes to knit and sew, and made her own drapes. She is also very proud of an oriental knot rug which took her a period of 8 years to make. Eight years is just about the period it has been since your reporter saw Shirley Roeing — at Steinmetz high school in Chicago where we were locker partners. Imagine our surprise to meet in Rolling Meadows after all these years! Dick Roeing is also an ex-Steinmetz student, as well as a graduate of the University of Illinois. Dick now works for C. E. Niehoff & Co. in Chicago—but his heart lies with his family and new home in Rolling Meadows.

Length Of Storage For Frozen Foods Varies By Product

The length of time that frozen foods may be held at their prime depends on a number of factors, according to Deepfreeze Home Appliances, pioneer manufacturer of home freezers.

Storage life varies according to type, quality, age and freshness of the product selected, speed and care in preparing and packaging, and the constancy of zero-degree or lower storage temperature. Typical recommended storage periods range from one to three months for sausage and other ground meats to a year or more for certain fruits and vegetables.

For most efficient use of a home freezer however, the emphasis should be on regular and frequent turnover of the freezer contents rather than lengthy storage, home economists explain.

News of Elk Grove

Rezoning Meeting

Again Mount Prospect village hall was jammed Friday with Elk Grove citizens protesting the rezoning of 22 acres from farming to residential. This is the second tract of land considered in a proposed 250 home development that will have homes selling for $6-7,000. The builder's side failed to prove anything by the percolation test since the engineer had taken it on the wrong piece of land. In retaliation they insisted that a surveyor be required to go out with the photographer to verify that the pictures of standing water were on the land in question. Miss Vera Folkman of Paddock Publications and an Elk Grove resident took the pictures submitted as evidence.

Surprise witness was a county highway representative who stated that the proposed Northwest superhighway right-of-way would affect part of this land. Alfred Landmeier testified as to the threat to the fire protection district; Ernest Cavallo, new school principal, spoke of the overcrowding this population influx would create in the school district and Walter Sunblad of the neighboring school district, also in Elk Grove township, stated that such a development in the future in their district might bankrupt their school.

Attorney Lawlor of the Cook County truck gardeners association gave an excellent summary of why rezoning should consider the health, safety and education of the community. This was particularly effective after the builder's attorney had stated that education was not for a zoning board to consider but a problem of only the school district.

The builder stated that the fact their houses were going to be built on piers was rumor whereas this spring this same man so informed the writer of this column over the phone and even described the skirt arrangement to make the house look as though it were going to the ground. Also their 4 bedroom homes were then $7,000 and the 2 bedroom homes $6,000 while last Friday he was talking of the latter as a $7,000 home.

This meeting was really an active one since it adjourned at midnight. The zoning board will not meet for at least 10 days to make their recommendations.

Review of Year — Part III

Bus Service

Prompt and efficient bus transportation was available for all pupils in all parts of the school district. Oscar's Bus service, owned by Oscar and Bill Miller, provided three bueses, each of which made two runs. Drivers were Oscar, Bill and Vince, who are the three that service and repair cars at the garage the rest of the day. Bus runs were so efficient that one could almost set his watch according to their daily arrivals and departures on the different runs. All in all it was a very successful year for transportation, and the efforts of Oscar's Bus service were much appreciated.

Registrations

This spring high school representatives came to school one night to discuss the high school program with all eighth graders and their parents. The purpose was to give information and answer questions about signing up for courses in high school. A few days later these pupils turned in their choices.

In May almost 40 first grade mothers registered children for next year's first grade. Based on previous experience there will be many more entering—possibly as many as 60 pupils altogether.

Spelling Contests

Last fall at the school spelling contest Nancy Heimsoth won. Nancy represented the school at the Daily News sectional spelling contest in Arlington Heights with Paul Kluge as the alternate since he won second place at school.

This spring at the township spelling contest Nancy again was first and Donna Scharringhausen second. At the Cook county contest in Chicago Donna got to the next to the last round before being eliminated.

School Newspaper

In November and in March the "Elk Grove Messenger" came out with many items of local news, features and humor. There were items from all grades and many individual contributions of news, jokes or poetry. An attractive sketch prepared by Arnold Michaels and Richard Peters adorned the front page.

Miscellaneous Activities

Grades 1-5 sold seeds during January to supplement their room funds for miscellaneous purchases. Pictures of all pupils were taken in October. For prices up to $2 individual picture combinations and a class composite picture could be obtained. Eighth grade conducted a newspaper collection drive in December and sold greeting cards in February to raise funds for the class gift. At graduation $50 was presented to the school to apply half toward a new record player and half toward new library books. Mrs. Allison handled Red Cross activities which included contributions of money and articles of handwork. Many individuals made nice things to be enjoyed by those not so fortunate. Other fund drives were the Christmas seal for TB and March of Dimes for polio.

Parent Conferences

An innovation was the parent-teacher conference held during November. Most parents got to school at the scheduled time for their conference and spent 10 minutes discussing their child's progress at school and at home for the mutual benefit of both parent and teacher.

Dancing

Elk Grove school established a real reputation in dancing ability this past year. The upper graders danced on many occasions and on bad weather mornings many of the younger ones after observing for awhile decided to get in on the act. Favorite novelty dances were the Hokey-Pokey, Mexican Hat dance, and Bunny Hop. Sixth graders under Mrs. King's direction became extremely proficient in square dancing to a wide variety of numbers. Eighth grade girls were accomplished jitterbugs.

Upper graders had two after school parties and one evening affair with social and square dancing, games, contests, refreshments, decorations, prizes, etc.

Audio-Visual

A wide variety of educational films were shown to various grade groupings this year. Most popular were the cartoon varieties teaching health and a monthly newsreel of events around the world. Seventh and eighth grade boys were selected to serve as movie operators on a rotational basis and did a fine job. In addition educational filmstrips and records were used in many of the rooms.

Service Groups

Girls' auxiliary and boys' patrol served the school in promoting safety, good conduct and assistance in projects. The patrol served outside while the auxiliary girls served inside. The girls rotated serving as receptionist in the office during the afternoon after Mrs. Laird left, selling and ordering candy and ice cream, and supervising traffic flow in and out of the building in the morning, noon and afternoon. The boys enforced playground rules, raised and lowered the flag and moved chairs for assemblies.

Lunch Program

Pupils ate lunch in the lunchroom on a staggered basis so that it wasn't too crowded at any time. Upper graders came down after the younger ones were out. Milk was paid for at the beginning of the month at a rate of 3c a bottle and then milk tickets were issued every day. State and federal subsidies of 1c from each make up the difference to the 5c charged the school. Ice cream, candy and potato chips were also sold.

Due to encouraging reports of a state lunchroom supervisor this spring and the county health department lunchroom consultant last week it is hoped that investigations can be made into establishing a hot lunch program sometime next year. Factors involved would be finances, locating two kitchen employees, remodeling the kitchen, and determining if there would be enough children buying a 30c lunch every day to make the project worthwhile. It would be hoped that the initial 30c figure could be lowered to 25c at a later date when more exact operating costs were determined and the number of participants was known. Governmental subsidies pay approximately 6c a meal besides frequent donations of surplus commodities. However, operating costs, initial installation costs and later improvement costs would still use up a lot of funds.

More summary of year's activities will appear next week.

Mrs. Arthur R. Hanson VA. 4-4788

Feehanville School

Last Friday night the board of directors of school district 26 had a meeting at the Feehanville school with Charles Klopp, the architect, and his associate, to open the bids on the new school buildings. Also at the meeting were Mrs. Rita Badalamenti Harold Broberg, Kenneth Karnuth and Mr. Brookhousen. C. J. Lauer, insurance engineer, and representatives of the many contractors who had submitted bids were also present. Twenty-four bids in all were received, and they were on general contracting, heating and ventilating, plumbing, electrical work, flooring and painting.

Board of directors were a little disappointed in that they felt the bids were too high. In order to get the most possible out of the bond issue, they are going to delay accepting any bids until they have a chance to negotiate with the lowest bidders. Mr. Klopp assured them the delay should not be more than a week or so, and a special meeting is being arranged with the contractors this week. Board of directors feel it is essential to start construction just as soon as possible, but they do want the district to get the best possible school at the lowest possible cost, and they feel a little extra time spent at this time will be worth while.

If you drive past the Feehanville school ,you can now see the recently acquired school property on the west, clearly defined by the new fence just put up. Application has been made for culvert permits, too, so that a roadway can be built.

Do not forget the election this coming Saturday, for the seven-man board of education. The candidates have all been attending the school board meetings, in order to keep in touch with the progress being made and to familiarize themselves with the work still to be done.

Youth Activities

Another date to keep open in the near future is August 28. This is the Sunday school picnic and will be held at the forest preserves, Lake ave., East. The various committees, (refreshments, games, prizes), are completing their plans, and they do sound good. This is when the annual soft-ball game between the married men and the single men will be played. Dick Roos has joined the ranks of the married men since the last picnic. Dick, Red Bischoff and Emert Roos have been coming out to practice every week with the Brigade, so they should all be in tip top shape to give the single men a stiff battle. One married gentleman was heard to remark "I'll have to get some batting practice — when I get up to bat I'll want to hit 'em far enough so I'll have plenty of time to round those bases."

Cottage Cheese From Pasteurized Milk

To make cottage cheese at home from pasteurized milk, use commercial cultured buttermilk as your source of sour milk bacteria. It is necessary to add bacteria because pasteurization has destroyed 99 per cent or more of the bacteria in the milk, and it won't sour properly unless some are added.

Dr. S. L. Tuckey, dairy manufactures specialist of the University of Illinois says commercial cultured buttermilk is available at any grocery store. One cup is enough to sour a gallon of pasteurized skim milk.

It takes 12 to 14 hours for a firm curd to form. It's a good idea to keep the milk in a water bath at 72 degrees Fahrenheit in order to control the temperature.

The firmness of the curd depends pretty much on the amount of acid developed by the bacteria. At the proper acidity, there will be small droplets of whey on top of the curd; also, when a tablespoon of curd is lifted from the curd mass, the hole will fill with whey.

National Sales Up

The consolidated sales of National Tea Co. for the four weeks ended June 19, 1954, amounted to $40,364,672 as compared with $35,902,201 for the four weks ended June 20, 1953, an increase of 12.43 per cent.

Sales for the year to date amounted to $232,522,003 as compared with $209,584,767 for the corresponding period in 1953, an increase of 10.94 per cent.

The number of stores in operation decreased from 730 at June 20, 1953 to 725 at June 19, 1954.

The first transportation bus ever devoted to four-side advertising of a commercial organization in Illinois was launched by Oak Park Federal Savings on the morning of their 20th anniversary celebration July 1.

The bus will be in regular service and will travel in a 30 mile area of the institution.

President John P. Domeier declared fast growing Oak Park Federal Savings had passed the $40,000,000.00 mark in total resources on the last day of June. This places Oak Park Federal well up in the list of the 120 largest Savings and Loan associations in the country.

Scrap Industry Booms With Rise In Auto Numbers

There are a thousand times as many cars and trucks on American highways today as there were 50 years ago—cars and trucks that live twice as long and travel three times as far as their ancestors of even 25 years ago.

Today more cars and trucks are scrapped every year than there were on the highways as late as 1915. Average scrappage for the past five years has run close to 3,000,000 passenger cars alone. Reasons for this high level are easy to find. They include:

Registrations are at an all-time high of more than 55,000,000. Over the past five years, they have averaged 57 per cent higher than in the immediate prewar period.

PRODUCTION is averaging 67 per cent higher than just before the war.

There is still an abnormally large number of old cars on the road. A fourth of all cars are of prewar vintage, and 7 per cent are more than 15 years old.

Annual mileage figures have assumed truly astonomical proportions in the postwar years. The prewar record was set in 1941, when factory workers, farmers, grocery shopper and tourists combined to pile up 275 billion passenger-car miles. Wartime rationing of gasoline and tires cut travel sharply, but in the first postwar year the nation's drivers chalked up 280 billion miles in thier prewar passenger cars. The climb since 1946 has been uninterrupted. Excluding trucks and buses, American highway travel reached the unprecendented total of about 440 billion miles last year.

Combined vehicle mileage passed the half trillion mark two years ago, and in 1953 touched 550 billion miles.

It would take a driver one million, 250-thousand years to cover this distance at 50 miles an hour, 24 hours a day.

You Can Have This Discarded Church Just For The Hauling

What's to become of the old Methodist church in Crystal Lake?

When the new Methodist church is completed and the historic building at the corner of Williams and Brink sts. is no longer used by the congregation, what will be done with this one of the city's "landmarks?"

Lester Gieseke, who owns the property, says that any organization or individual having use for the church may have it free of charge, if they will just move it off the site.

Don't clutter up corners of your living room with tangles of excess lamp cords. It's so easy to tailor them to the exact length you need that you'll wonder why you didn't think of it before. Aileen Page, General Electric home lighting specialist suggests that you first measure the distance to the wall outlet. Then, with the lamps disconnected, snip off electrical cord with your household shears. Now, simply attach one of the snap-on type plugs to the end of the cord. These plugs require no intricate wiring and the new plug can be attached in just a few seconds.

DO YOU DUST your light bulbs? You should if you want the most light for your money. G-E lighting people remind you that dirty bulbs waste light. Even a thin layer of dust or dirt can reduce the amount of light from a bulb by one-half. For better lighting results, wash bowls, bulbs and shades frequently.

About Your Health

The beginning of adolescence in the young girl is very important and deserves an understanding from every member of the family. This is the time the little girl starts to grow up; a profound physiological change takes place which affects the body growth and concomitantly, affects the emotional balance or equilibrium, the educational committee of the Illinois state medical society observes.

In the beginning of adolescence, there is a marked increase in the function of the reproductive glands. This is true in the male and the female, but in the female it marks the onset of a physiological process known as the menstrual cycle. This process continues to exert a cyclic influence to which the woman reacts until after her menopause.

BOTH PHYSIOLOGICAL and emotional changes point the way to maturity, which naturally, require adjustments.

The adolescent girl has essentially three problems to solve before she can reach the stage of emotional maturity. First she must separate herself from the dependent ties which bind her to her parents. This does not mean a rebellious, independent relationship, but rather the ability to assume responsibilities in relationship to other people, to be creative and productive in her association with the family and community, and to have the ability to give and receive with an adequate balance to both.

THE SECOND problem is to prepare herself for a career. Today, nearly every young girl works in some occupation for a few years after adolescence and until her time of marriage. It is quite common today for women to combine their careers with marriage.

The third problem is the preparation for marriage and for children. A good basic understanding of physical and emotional needs of everyday problems encountered in family living, and an honest attitude to them, are essential to a happy marital future.

Retain Bonds

Seventy-five per cent of all matured U.S. Savings Bonds are being retained because the interest-earning period was extended for ten years.

Des Plaines Votes Garbage Pickup At $1

Des Plaines city council held its second "hectic" meeting in as many weeks and when the argumentative smoke had settled aldermen had finally voted 8 to 3 to levy a $1 per month charge for garbage and refuse pickup and to abandon the pickup of garbage and rubbish for commercial houses effective July 1.

When the $1 per month charge goes into effect a smaller annual tax for the service will be eliminated.

Coal Hydrogenation

Coal hydrogenation is defined as the pulverization of coal, mixing it with oil, and adding hydrogen at a specific temperature and pressure, and the process is employed to supplement the production of aromatic chemicals, gases, pitch, napthalene, cresols, and quinoline, heretofore derived almost wholly from coke oven operations.

In Piano Recital

Miss Iris Gardner, a student at the Fairview school, Mount Prospect, played in her first piano recital on Sunday, June 27 in the recital hall of the American conservatory of music in downtown Chicago. Although only eight years old, this was not her first stage appearance, as she performed in dancing recitals several years ago while just a little girl.

Iris was especially commended by her teacher and the audience of 75 people for her gifted playing, friendly personality, and fine stage presence.

WE'RE NEWSPAPERMEN

. . . Not Medicinemen

Sure, we've got a health column . . . telling you how to keep alive, how to enjoy life, how to diagnose some ills . . . But we don't take your temperature, write prescriptions, or make you cough.

COVERAGE AND SPACE IS OUR BUSINESS

Coverage means reaching LOCAL homes, not those in Gary, Rockford or Oquawka . . . Space means advertising lineage which enables the families of 45 full-time employees of Paddock Publications to eat regularly.

About Coverage . . .

Getting out a newspaper has been the job of the Paddock family the past 58 years . . . That original list of less than 500 names when H. C Paddock put his foot in the door in Arlington Heights had grown to 4,500 by 1938, then moved steadily upward to 6,-500 by 1942 . . . During World War II the list climbed to 9,000 when 1,500 servicemen received their paper through the mails.

Modern circulation history has been written since VJ-Day, when a combined distribution of 10,245 as of October 1, 1947 grew to 11,725 two years later . . . In 1951 the number had grown to 13,885 and on up to 15,305 October 1 of last year . . . Latest total taken as of March 6, 1954 reveals THE ASTOUNDNIG GRAND TOTAL OF ALL EIGHT PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS at 16,430.

That's Coverage, boy . . . Coverage of LOCAL HOMES with 9,000 going through the mail slot and 7,000 being picked up at drug stores, food stores, and anywhere else there's room to pile 'em.

Prime example is Arlington Heights where total distribution of the Arlington Heights Herald is just 200 less than the COMBINED TOTAL of all FIVE CHICAGO DAILIES on any weekday.

About Space . . .

Space to a newspaper is advertising lineage, the white space around the news that must be filled to pay 40 LOCAL correspondents gathering news of 21 communities, and 45 LOCAL full time employees . . .

It's the lifeblood of a newspaper and provides local businessmen with the opportunity to "display their wares" . . . To enable them to prosper and sit down to a full table, too.

In the past few months Paddock Publications has established new rate schedules which permit reduced lineage rates for consecutive advertisers, those men who place their name before the public week after week . . . Another step is the proof of ad, mounted on bright yellow posters, for posting in shop windows to all who ask for them . . . Both moves were made to provide advertisers with up - to - date methods of merchandising.

And when you readers enjoy looking over the local paper, taking advantage of many of the bargains offered therein, remember it's your local businessmen who cooperate with Paddock Publications in bringing one of the largest, best-read newspapers to your home 52 weeks of the year.

That's It For Today . . .

We've finished our spiel . . . We'll leave you now in the hope you like the paper, that you'll continue to buy it, and that if you don't like something that's printed, tell us . . . Or better still, tell the Fence Post and let your neighbors hear, too.

IN THE SECOND game the White Sox upset the Braves, 3-1. This game also featured a one inning attack by the Sox, who scored three runs in the third, when knowles, who pitched the first three innings and allowed one hit, slugged out a home run with McAfee and Foster on base. This was the Sox's total attack.

The Braves scored their run in the third without the aid of a hit. The Sox were favored with some fine pitching. Knowles started and allowed one hit in three innings. He was followed on the mound by Baumrucher, who, though allowing four hits in three innings, pitched beautiful ball.

Of the four hits, three were of the scratch variety, and when in trouble Baumoncher was always the master of the situation.

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

WE ARE MORE AND MORE convinced our advice to Dick "Tinker" Meyer to prepare for professional golf is correct. After a layoff of a month since the Northwest conference tournament Meyer scored a 36 with three penalties on the front nine at Inverness. Three days later he played a full 18 with a 36-34 for 70, two below par.

Meyer shot the tough back nine in 34 with four birdies and only one bogey. Meyer won 11 varsity letters at Palatine high in golf, baseball, basketball, and football.

Inverness golf club had the heaviest play in the history of the course Monday. Hardie Hodgson, the club's most consistent "A" class golfer, won in his division in the flag tournament with a 70. Hodgson used the stroke allotted him with his handicap to complete 20 holes. Second in the flag tournament was Jim Black, followed by a tie between Bud Hertel and J. E. Jackson.

NORM ANDERSON of Inverness Countryside had one of the big thrills of his life Saturday as he shot a hole in one on the 165 yard 18th hole at Inverness.

This is a really tough par three hole with a creek on two sides of the green, traps and bunkers on the other two sides and a big bushy willow tree which stands on the right side in front of the green to catch tee shots not aimed directly at the pin.

THE IOWA HAWKEYES have three standout football players on the varsity roster from Steubenville, Ohio, in Calvin Jones, Frank Gilliam, and Eddie Vincent, all of whom will be juniors next fall. It could be that in a couple of seasons there will be three more on the team from the same city, this time East St. Louis, Illinois. They are Frank Rigney an all-state end; Roy Coppettelli, a quarterback; and Mike Phelps, a halfback.

They are all due to enroll at the University of Iowa this fall. Phelps is a nephew of Iowa's former All-American tackle, Duke Slater.

NORTH CHICAGO is due to open a new high school in September with Bill Herbster, former Barrington principal, as superintendent, and Les Harman, former Broncho cage coach, as administrative assistant. Harman announces that North Chicago will play a 20-game basketball schedule and participate in the DeKalb holiday tournament.

The cage card includes games with Austin and Tilden Tech of Chicago, Marmion military academy, Zion-Benton, Ela-Vernon, Highland Park, East Rockford, Kenosha, Mooseheart, Bloomington, Glenbrook, Bensenville, Leyden, Reavis, Antioch, Richmond and Hebron. Most of the North Chicago students have been attending Waukegan.

COACH RUSS POPPENHAGER, Hinsdale golf coach, lost all five of his state championship golfers by graduation. Geoffrey Ames, his state individual champion, was a transfer this year from Toledo, Ohio. The other four were under Poppenhager's direction all four years. In their junior year they took third in the state meet.

The Chicago area certainly dominates spring sports in contrast with basketball. In the state meets this past spring seven out of the top eight were from the Chicago area. Only Danville, co-champ in tennis; East St. Louis, tied for fourth in track; and Peoria Central, third in golf; were from the downstate area.

School Is Out, But Arlington High Golfers Continue Play

Last year's Arlington Heights high school golfers are continuing their links activities. Bob McDonald lost out Tuesday in the semi-finals of the Chicago district boys open tournament at South Shore country club when eliminated on the 19th hole. This event was for boys 15 years of age and younger.

Dick Hauff tied for fourth in the U. S. Southern Jr. Open for men under 20 at Tallahassee, Florida, last week when he shot 70, 72 and 78 on the 73-par course. Entry list included 280 golfers, most of them from college ranks. Dick will receive a large trophy.

THIS WEEK July 6 and 7, Hauff is attempting to win the Herald-American tournament at Jackson Park, Chicago, for the fourth time. Dick was runner-up last year, going on to the national Hearst newspaper tourney.

The past four years Dick has finished third, fourth, second and second. More than 300 entries were received in last year's tournament operated by Arlington's own Tommy Kouzmanoff.

ILLINOIS STATE JC tournament will be next for Hauff July 12 and 13, competing at River Forest country club. Dick finished third last year and went on to the national contest at Ann Arbor.

Other Heights golfers slated to compete in the state event will be the five boys that copped the first five places in the recent Des Plaines JC tournament at Rob Roy country club. That was the day the Wheeling township JC's did not conduct a tourney and Arlington Heights high school golf coach Curtis Larsen received entry blanks at the last minute for eleven "of his boys".

THE CARDINAL golfers walked off with seven trophies, including the five spots for the state tournament. These five golfers include Wayne Rolfs, Jerry Johnson, Bob McDonald, Mike Spinello and Andrew Hacker.

End of the month will find Hauff playing in the amateur division in the All-American tournament at Tam O' Shanter country club. Qualifying starts July 31, with performance determining how long the golfers, both pro and amateur, can remain in the running for cash and awards. The prowinner will pocket $100,000.

Poole Fords Trip Northlake

Johnny Sujack, Arlington lefty, shut out Northlake Sunday with only three hits to give the local Legion team its third win in league play. Sujack gave up only three singles, two of the infield variety and fanned ten.

His mates collected five hits, one a ground rule double by Bob Harrington, Arlington shortstop, that would have gone for three bases at least if it wasn't for a pre-game ruling that any ball hit into the fireworks display would be an automatic double.

THE GAME was tight until the sixth when the locals scored twice. Jerry Sauter led off with a single to center after Fletcher flied out, Dave Lynch slammed another single to center and Ron Ashley was passed to fill the bases.

Dick France then singled to right, driving in Sauter, and Lynch scored shortly thereafter on a wild pitch. That ended the scoring but two runs were ample as Sujack set the visitors down in order in the first of the seventh.

Don Gerken Fans 70 Batters In 30 Hts. Innings

by BOB FRISK

As Gerken goes, so go the Cardinals!

Don Gerken, a fireballing youngster who blazes fast balls past National League batters like a human machine, is currently the number one reason why the Cardinals remain settled in the enviable position of first place in Arlington Heights Little League competition. Their league leading record is 6-2.

Much can be—and has been—written about the feats of Don but let the figures tell the story: In 30 innings of pitching, Gerken has fanned a remarkable 70 batters and given up only 14 hits or for comparison sake, an average of better than two strikeouts per inning and a yield of only one hit every two frames. His pitching slate is 4-1, the only loss a close 2-1 dicision to the Cubs. Enough said?

THE BOBBY FELLER of the Heights Little League sent 14 Braves down on three strikes in his latest masterpiece, a 2-1 victory, July 1.

Warren Meyer, Don Snell, and Joe Orgler hurled for the losing Braves, Snell taking the loss although he struck out the side in his only inning of work. Sandwiched in between, he gave up two walks and one run.

Monday night with Hal Lux on the mound the Cards dropped a tight 8-7 decision to the Dodgers at the high school, but Gerken, playing left field, did more than his part. His big bat boomed a two run homer and one other safety in four bats.

George Tuttle's Dodgers were led at the plate by Dave Kussow who produced three straight hits, including a second inning triple. Ken Dougan hurled for the winning Dodgers, fanning nine and walking only two.

THE CUBS' attempt to move up on the Cardinals was checked momentarily at least Tuesday night; as the second placers tied a rapidly improving Braves nine, 2-2. Game is to be re-played or completed at a later date.

Dennis Hartman fashioned a neat three hitter for the Braves, but Cubs' Frank Harris was equal to the task, allowing only four hits and walking one.

Cubs' key hit was first inning blow by Kehe which drove in both runs. For the Braves Don Snell rapped a triple.

Cork And Bottle Drops Two Games

Cork & Bottle, Palatine's softball representatives, lost two ball games over the week end under the lights at Community park. Maywood edged "our boys" Friday night, 5-4, with Oak Park Amvets whitewashing the bottlemen, 5-0, Sunday evening.

Cork & Bottle drew first blood against Maywood when Mussen homered in the second. Maywood took pot shots in the third with a walk and two singles tying the score. In the fourth a homer put Maywood ahead with three more in the fifth on four singles.

PALATINE came back in the sixth with three runs. Santucci was hit by a pitched ball, Douglas singling and going to second on an error. Majewski tripled, scoring Santucci and Douglas. Mussen walked with a long fly bringing in Majewski.

On the mound for Cork & Bottle was Heiden, who allowed eight hits, fanned nine and walked three. Palatine garnered six hits off Williams of Maywood.

FIRST INNING Sunday night was a sign of things to come when Cork & Bottle notched three hits but tallied no runs. Wickersham singled but both Majewski and Wickersham were caught between the bags, retiring the side.

Oak Park tallied once in the first, again in the second, and three times in the third for the game. Loutsch twirled for Cork & Bottle, with Kelly on the mound for Oak Park.

3 Teams Battling For Paddock Tourney Rob Roy Golf League

L-Nor Cleaners are still setting pace in Tuesday Rob Roy League by trouncing Rhodes Appliances, 6-1. SMITH & DAWSON, the third contender for the Paddock berth, stopped Dunteman Dairy 4½-2½. This is another week where the heat was turned on for the hard fighting milk men. Some of the heat was in the form of a 1-under par 35 by J. Rowader, who this year has been giving par an awfully rough time.

Balling of the losers, who won his match from R. Cook with a 39. Doc Boman's net 30 was low for the night.

Prospect Hts. Service Station trompled all over Whitton Realty for a 6-1 win. Stan Fill with a 37 and Dick DeZur with 39 were the power of the Gas House Gang.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS Pharmacy edged Michaels IGA 4½-2½ in a closely contested battle. W. Evans was the fly in the ointment as he accounted for two of the losers points.

Van Driel's Extends Lead In Monday Golf

Last week this writer was a little too slow in getting his report to the paper. As a result golfers were denied the privilege of seeing the results of play on June 21. There was not much change in the standings. Birdies were scored by Leutz on the 11th and Walters on the 17th and 18th.

In Monday night's play June 28, Van Driel's increased their lead to a cozy six points by taking seven points from the slipping Sundberg team.

THE RACE for second place is tightening up with Mount Prospect Hardware holding an edge of ½ point over Barclay Clearbrook Engineering.

The hard fighting Illinois Range team are the spoilers of the season. June 14 they had a "grand slam" against Mount Prospect Bank and in last Monday night's play scored their second "grand slam" against Moler's Barber shop. With this win Illinois Range moved into fourth place and are only 1½ points behind third place Barclay Clearbrook Engineering team.

There were a large number of birdies. L. Johnson had one on the 1st and another on the 9th. M. Weber had one on the 13th and another on the 15th. Others were Remsen on the 8th, Payne on the 3rd, Louthain and Hornbostel on the 13th and Hammerl on the 1st.

A real thriller was provided for the fans Monday night, as the Yanks rolled to a 7-1 lead over the Red Sox going into the final half inning only to see the margin disappear with a five run Sox comeback.

Dave Brodnan turned in a good performance for the Red Sox, but his slants were still solved for seven Yankee runs on five hits. Dave struck out twelve and issued four bases on balls.

GREGG BECKWAY twirled for the Yanks and was highly effective for five innings. But that near disastrous sixth brought in Jim Kennedy and Jim stemmed the tide to save Gregg's win.

WITH THE NATIONAL division becoming an apparent Cardinal affair, the American League still shapes up as a real three team dogfight between the White Sox, Yankees, and Red Sox.

After Monday night's action the Yankees had moved into undisputed first palce with a 7-3 mark, one half game ahead of the White Sox and one on top of the Red Sox. The last place Athletics were still without a win.

Rain forced postponement of two A. L. contests this past week, but Merv Fink's powerful Yanks added a pair of victories to their winning streak which has now reached five games.

New Bear Ends

Two giant ends have been added to the 1954 battlefront of the Chicago Bears with the signing of Larry Brink, who was recently acquired in a trade with Los Angeles, and the veteran, Bill Wightkin.

Brink, who stands 6 feet, 5 inches and weighs 240 pounds, is a veteran of five years experience in the National Football League. He is recognized as one of the top defensive ends in football, and has made the all-league honor team several times. The Bears sent Tackle Bobby Cross to the Rams in exchange for Brink.

Wightkin, a Notre Dame product, stands 6 feet, 2½ inches and weighs 233 pounds. He joined the Bears in 1950 and will be on hand for his fifth season with the club when the veterans report at St. Joseph's college Monday, July 26. Wightkin expects to have his top season this fall.

Mt. Prospect VFW Trips Merchants, 4-2

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

Fritzie Peterson, the Mt. Prospect Merchants number one pitcher this season, pitched a six hit, one run ball game Wednesday evening, June 30, to pace his team to a 5-1 Little League victory over Wheeling Chamber of Commerce at Lions Park in Mt. Prospect. Fritz went all the way and raised his total strikeouts for the season to 41 by striking out 11 Wheeling batters. No one can give Fritzie all the credit though, for he had wonderful support from his teammates who were beind him all the way.

Dave Zimmerman was the losing pitcher for Wheeling.

EVEN THOUGH a day late, there were quite a few fireworks at Owen Street Park in Mt. Prospect July 5. The Merchants were playing the Mt. Prospect VFW in a Little League game that was packed full of thrills. The Merchants put up a good battle but it wasn't enough, for the VFW edged them to win 4-2.

Chuck Phalen was the winning pitcher and Gehe Dahlquist the loser for the Merchants. The Merchants had eight hits, one of them George Borks' third homer of the season. This tied him with Fred Boedeker for the lead on the Merchants team.

The Merchants tallied two the opening frame, but the VFW came back with three in the second. The winners added one more in the fifth for insurance. Staral and Blake garnered two hits apiece for the VFW, with F. Boedeker and Blake smashing doubles.

Noisiest Park Is Wrigley Field

Noisiest park in the majors is Wrigley Field when numerous youngsters are in the place rooting for the Cubs, says The Sporting News. They've come up with a new wrinkle in noisemaking and do it on an organized basis which is highly effective and not annoying to their elders, who get quite a kick out of it. Each youngster planks himself down beside a vacant seat, raises it and then bangs down hard, producing a noise similar to that of a drum corps. They cheer in unison with their "drum beats."

Barrington Girl Safe As She Escapes From Car Hit By Train

Miss Amelia Vanderveen, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Venderveen Sr. of Mundhenk rd., Barrington, had a bad fright when her automobile stalled on the Main st. crossing of the North Western in the path of the southbound Williams Bay express, due at the Barrington depot at 8:13 a. m.

Miss Vanderveen had time to get out of her car but, confused by the approaching train, did not leave the danger area until bystanders grasped her arms and led her away.

The rear of the stalled automobile was hit by the locomotive and thrown into the depot driveway. The car crashed against another automobile and the spare tire and wheel, hurled from the trunk, struck a third car.

Miss Vanderveen said she saw the wig wags in operation and heard the warning bells, but other cars were crossing and she followed them, not realizing that the train was so close.

Start Work On Cuba Twp. Five Year Plan Of Road Improvement

Work has been started on the first project of the Cuba township road program authorized April 13 when voters of the township, by a majority of approximately 35 per cent, endorsed a special road tax.

The first 2½ miles to be improved are Ridge road west of the village on the Lake-McHenry county line, and Indian Trail road in the northeast part of the township.

These roads will be graded and topped with an oil treated aggregate, rolled and seal coated, making a hard surface free of dust.

The plan for the improvement of the gravel surfaced roads in the township system is a five-year program, with three miles to be done each year with township funds and one and one-half miles with the township's share of the motor fuel tax.

Rain Tightens Race In Heights Pony League Baseball Chase

by BOB FRISK

The torrential rains that fell last week almost completely washed out Arlington Heights Pony League play, but one game did escape the elements and its result forced the four teams even closer together in the mad scramble for first place and eventual division title.

Behind portsider Jim Meehan, who since taking to the mound a little over a week ago has notched two victories in three decisions, the Phillies bounced the first place Indians, 6-2, and thus moved a full game up on the leaders, though still holding the bottom rung.

MOREOVER, the Phillies' win elevated the idle Redlegs and Orioles, co-holders of second place within one half game of the Indians, as the sixth week of competition began Tuesday night.

Among those contests affected by the week's storms were the Orioles-Redlegs meeting, Indians-Orioles battle, and the Redlegs-Phillies tilt. The latter was to conclude a big Saturday triple-bill at Recreation Park with four Little League and two Pony League squads competing.

Meehan's pitching masterpiece, June 30, not only sent the Indians down to their third defeat in seven starts, but it also tagged little Paul Incapreo with his first loss of the season.

PAUL WAS KNOCKED for six hits in five innings and he could only set three down on strikes. Meehan, on the other hand, allowed four hits, fanned seven, and walked two in the six segments. Jim is rapidly developing into a real classy front line hurler.

Phils' first sacker Jim Peery took batting honors for the game with two hits. Incapreo, Pony League's leading hitter, was collared for the first time this season, going 3 for 0, and his average dropped to .545 for 22 at bats.

FRIDAY NIGHT at the high school field the Indians will take on the Phillies again, starting time 6:30. Saturday at 1 p.m. the Orioles and Redlegs will initiate a full afternoon of baseball at Recreation Park and then next week the Redlegs and Indians and Phillies and Orioles are slated to battle at Recreation Park and the high school, respectively.

Colonels Edge Senators In No. Side Minor Loop

The drawl of the Charleston Senators in the North Side minor league at Arlington Heights was ably interpreted Wednesday evening by the Louisville Colonels, southerners themselves.

In fact, the last place Colonels hadn't been reading the Arlington Heights Herald and dealt the Senators the first loss of the year, 8-7.

THE SENATORS scored one in the second, one in the third, three in the fourth and two in the fifth. Colonels braced four in both fourth and fifth innings for the victory. Winning pitcher was Hahn, the loser Ken Moudry.

The Senators led in extra base hits with Dean Moehling tripling in the first, Ken Moudry doubling in both the second and fourth innings, Bob Schultz doubling in the third and Steve Bergstrom doubling in the fourth.

Schaeffer and Fisher each added two hits for the Colonels.

Oaks Lead South Side Minors At Arlington

South Side Arlington Heights minor league teams are rollicking along at a fast clip. Oakland Oaks defeated the San Diego Padres last Thursday night, 20-5, and the Oaks then trimmed the Los Angeles Angels July 6, 5-2.

Winning pitcher for the Oaks was lefty Gary Spencer, helped by lefty Billy "The Kid" Hoban.

Three hits combined with 7 walks was the Oaks margin of victory over the Angels' improved pitcher Paul Tossman. Rich Fenlon, Oaks second baseman, smashed a long two bagger, scoring two runs.

State Broiler Growers To Organize July 12

The first meeting of the Illinois broiler growers association is scheduled for Monday, July 12, at Urbana.

This organizational meeting of the state's growers of broiler chicks will be held in conjunction with All-Industry Poultry Day sponsored by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Members at this meeting will elect permanent officers and a board of directors.

All broiler growers, hatcherymen, feed dealers and others interested in developing a more stable Illinois broiler industry are urged to take part in this organizational meeting. The new association will represent the 36-million-dollar-a-year broiler industry in the state.

Several topics to be discussed during the All-Industry Poultry Day program will deal directly with broiler production and marketing problems.

Fasten Tools for Safety

HOW to keep tools secure while they rest on top of a step-ladder is shown in the illustration, reproduced through courtesy of American Builder, authoritative magazine for the building industry. Fasten a piece of old inner-tube as shown.

Slip tools under the band, which will prevent them from falling off. Also, both hands will be free when moving the ladder, and there will be no need to put down the tools every time a move is made.

Corn Growing Fast On Farms

For the second straight week, the great middle western corn belt sweltered from high temperatures and excessive humidity. While man wiped his salty brow, all crops grew by leaps and bounds with corn mostly laid by in all areas except the northernmost fields.

Wheat harvesting, which is about complete, drew to a rapid close with yields being reported in central Illinois in the better than 40 bushel per acre class.

The flooded areas of Iowa, southern Minnesota and portions of Nebraska slowly climbed out of the mire to near normal with considerable replanting to corn, beans and millet.

ONLY DARK spots on the horizon at this time were those reports received from the DeKalb seed corn crop observers in the southwestern portions of the food belt where grasshoppers were beginning to reach serious proportions in most of Missouri and some sections of Kansas.

Another threat looming into much of the north half of Iowa and in many parts of Minnesota and points west is a severe corn borer moth flight, which can affect all of the corn harvest if proper measures are not resorted to immediately. State and Government Officials in Minnesota reported a moth flight on June 24 of 700 moths and the next day, 4000. Many farmers are already in their fields spraying to combat this pest.

Illinois Scientists Show Farmers In India How To Increase Yields

Illinois scientists are showing farmers of India how to increase crop production on soils that are starved for nitrogen.

How they're doing it is described in an article in the current issue of the IAA record, official publication of the Illinois agricultural association.

The article is based on observations and reports of Frank Shuman, formerly farm adviser in Whiteside county, who says:

"INDIAN SOILS are so tired they need all the legumes, all the manure and all the chemical nitrogen they can get. In my first demonstration, all I did was hoe out the weeds and supply chemical nitrogen.

"It worked like magic. The corn yield tripled and the nitrogen content of the corn increased 76 per cent. In my opinion, more corn could be grown in India than in the corn belt if the right hybrid could be found.

"India has the rainfall, the open soil and hot summer weather. Here at Allahabad the soil has plenty of calcium, phosphorus and potash.

"But Indians need their imaginations fired. When you show them 43,750 pounds of green hay in three cuttings, they look at things differently. Milk production increased 30 per cent when cows were fed a mixture of green alfalfa hay and oats.

"THERE IS PLENTY of room for improvement in wheat production," Shuman writes. "India averages about eight bushels to the acre. Pusa 4, a new variety, yielded 41 bushels an acre last year on irrigated land.

"Allahabad Institute's average in 1953 was 15 bushels an acre. Allahabad is an agricultural college largely supported by church and individual contributions from the United States.

Self help is one of the major rules at the Indian experimental college, Shuman says. "Our rule here is never to encourage doles or charity in the village scheme. It kills Indian self pride.

"When Indians are sparked by the spirit of self help, they become proud of their achievements. This is a healthy sign in a country rife with superstition and prejudice," he concludes.

Use Protective Powders Or Fummigants To Protect The Stored Wheat On Farms

Protective powders or fumigants will help to prevent insects form damaging the wheat you are storing on your farm this year.

Steve Moore, extension entomologist at the University of Illinois and the State Natural history survey, says it is important to protect wheat from grain insects, because the insects are most active during the warm months — at the time the wheat is being stored.

PROTECTIVE POWDERS are useful in preventing infestations, while the fumigation can be used both to prevent an infestation before it starts and to control one that has started.

Moore recommends using protective powders where the grain is to be stored near sources of infestation, such as feed rooms, feeding floors of poultry house. These powders contain pyrethrin and piperonyl butoxide or other activators that will increase killing power. And they are simple to use. They may be mixed with wheat in combine hoppers or as it is being elevated into the bin.

IF YOU DON'T use a protective powder, fumigate new grain within two to four weeks after it is binned. A fumigant should also give adequate protection if you are storing clean, dry wheat in a clean, tight bin away from sources of infestations.

The following mixtures are some of the chemicals that are relatively safe to use in fumigation: 3 parts of ethylene dichloride to 1 part of carbon tetrochloride; 1 part of carbon disulfide to 4 parts of carbon tetrachloride; or a 60-35-5 mixture of carbon tetrachachloride; ethylene dichloride and ethylene dibromide. These fumigants should be bought ready-mixed.

GRAIN STORED and treated in either of the two ways will usually stay free from insects for 9 to 12 months. But is will be a good idea to inspect wheat at regular intervals, particularly during the wary months, and to fumigate if necessary.

Scouts Get Scare As 'Headless Horseman' Rides Into Camp

A group of Lombard girl scouts saw shades of Washington Irving's Headless Horseman while on an overnight camping trip at the Churchill forest preserve.

About 2 a. m. a figure gowned in a white sheet riding a white sheeted horse came galloping near the sleeping girls. The figure screamed, but not alone, as it rode past the group.

And who was the stranger in white? Officials disclosed that the "headless horseman" turned out to be a teen-age girl who was playing a prank. The girl told officials that the sheet kept the mosquitoes away but did not explain the reason for the two o'clock ride.

Forest preserve officials signed a warrant charging the girl with riding a horse in the pre serves, which is illegal.

Plan Your Future

For today and for the future; for yourself and for your country; the U.S. Savings Bonds Payroll Savings Plan is a thoroughly American plan.

Remind Farmers To Treat Fish Pond Just Like A 'Wet Pasture'

One big female bass in a one acre farm pond could produce enough progeny so that if all eggs hatched and all fish survived for three generations, there would be enough fish, at one pound each, to replace the water in the pond and to make a heap, one acre in area, extending over 700 feet above the pond.

Rabbits, guinea pigs and other reputed high reproducers are pikers compared to the average fish. Even some fish make other species look like pikers also. The average trout will lay about 1,000 eggs; a bass 10,000; a bluegill 20,000; and a big carp might lay a million. Fish are very prolific so that it doesn't take many to stock a lake or a pond, if conditions are near right for survival. In the past there has been a constant tendency to overstock, ruining many an otherwise potentially good fishing pond.

TOO MANY times sportsmen's groups have insisted on having hatchery fingerlings put in their waters with the mistaken idea that this will insure good fishing. At best the stocking of 5,000 fingerling bass in most any water is a highly uneconomical proceeding. One female bass would lay about 10,000 eggs and produce more fingerlings at no cost.

Many a farmer has been disappointed in the fishing from his farm pond. He has seen millions of bluegill fry and decided to wait until they grew up before starting to fish for them. If one of his cows should produce 10,000 calves in one year he would know what to do. His pasture and feed would never hold out so he would either have to sell off most of this crop of calves or rapidly extend his pasture.

HOWEVER, HE thinks his farm pond is different, when in reality it is only a wet pasture and one into which he can't look to see what is going on. This farmer finds that his bluegills never grow up, they remain stunted for lack of food and die of starvation but he never knows it for they are on the bottom of the pond where he can't see them.

Fish are very prolific and will produce plenty of food and sport for us if we just give them the chance.

Farmers Who Hold Their Wheat May Get Higher Prices Later

With the 1954 wheat crop in this region expected to be much smaller than last year, farmers may make money by holding their wheat, says farm adviser. Carl F. Mees.

Reports from University of Illinois agricultural economist L. J. Norton show that a smaller wheat crop plus the government loan program may mean less "free" wheat from this area for sale in the markets. Norton believes this could cause a substantial increase over present wheat prices. These prices are now about 65 cents under the loan price.

MEES SAYS the prospects for a smaller wheat crop are based on June 1 estimates for the total wheat crop in Missouri and in states east of the Mississippi river. At that time 1954 production was expected to be about 100 million bushels below the 1953 crop. Wheat in these states is mainly soft wheat or the softer types of hard wheat.

Farmers in this region placed nearly 100 million bushels of wheat under loans or purchase agreements in 1953, says Mees. If as much goes under loan this year, the supply of "free" wheat for sale will be only about 60 per cent as large as last year's supply.

FARMERS who have wheat with a low moisture content may be able to hold it for higher prices. They could either store it on the farm or use short-time storage in local elevators that may have unused space until corn and beans are harvested.

A stronger demand may also help the price of soft wheat. This demand is largely the result of relatively low prices for this type compared with others. These lower prices stimulated the use of soft wheat for feed and milling and also for export.

Urge Stockmen To Cull Dairy Cows Now For Market

If your are planning to cull some cows from your dairy herd, now may be the time to do it. You will probably get higher market prices for them now than later in the season.

Beef prices of lower grades of cattle usually fluctuate with a seasonal high in the spring and a low in the fall, says J. G. Cash, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois. The present outlook for prices of lower grades of beef does not warrant holding unprofitable dairy cows for an upward trend in the beef market.

In addition, if you remove the low-producing cows from your herd now, they won't be eating up the profits your high-producing cows are making.

Cash suggests that you cull cows of higher testing breeds that are producing less then 5,000 pounds of milk a year, and cows of the lower testing breeds that are producing less than 7,500 pounds of milk a year.

Elk Grove Future Homes 4-H Club

The Future Homes 4-H club held their eighth meeting at the home of Patricia Kaberline.

Talks were given by Lois Von Bergen on "Pressing a Garment" and "Health;" Marsha Shoemaker on "How to Make Good Cookies;" Esther Von Bergen on "Fire Prevention;" and Susan Horbus on "Cookies" and "How I Cut My Skirt."

Demonstrations were given by Kathy Gosko on "How to Sew a Button on Properly" and by Esther Von Bergen on "How to Make a Carnation Corsage."

The meeting was adjourned and the girls enjoyed games and refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mary Kaiser July 8.

Des Plaines Chapter Women Of The Moose

Des Plaines chapter Women of the Moose are having their officers night program on July 8 at 8:30 p.m. at the Moose lodge on N. River rd. Guests will take the chairs from Portage Park, River Grove, Brookfield, Elmhurst, Downers Grove, Highland Park, Cicero and Skokie chapters.

Formerly it was the practice for the new chairmen to have the first meeting of the year but for the last two years Mooseheart has changed this procedure to the elected and appointed officers night. In this way the new officers, by visiting the different chapters, get a better perspective of their work in Moosology, also to get acquainted with other officers.

A member of the Loyal Order of Moose or Women of the Moose never has an idle moment as there is always either something that needs to be done or helped. Magdalene Remsing and Edith Engel, Forest River, were guests of River Grove and Portage Park chapters

Quantity Sales At Lower Prices Mean More Milk Is Sold

Let the housewife do more of the work in milk distribution, and give her more milk for her money. That's the best way to sell more milk per person.

R. W. Bartlett, University of Illinois farm economist, says this is being done in some markets, and in each case milk sales have gone up.

THE HOUSEWIFE does the work by buying milk in grocery stores, and she gets more for her money by buying in half-gallon or gallon lots. This practice, called "quantity discounts," is increasing. In January three times as many markets reported the practice as reported it in 1951.

Two-thirds of the milk sold in Chicago in April was sold in half-gallon or gallon lots, and housewives were able to buy milk for just a little more than 17 cents a quart in the bigger quantities. The price of delivered quarts was 24 cents.

CHICAGO HAS been a pacesetter in the practice. As a result of the trend, along with higher incomes per capita, milk sales have gone up 30 per cent since 1940.

Quantity discounts in stores also have resulted in quantity discounts on routes. In May one Chicago distributor was delivering milk in gallons at the rate of 19 cents a quart.

IN CLEVELAND, where the practice started in 1952, milk sales jumped seven per cent in one year. This increase put an additional $550,000 into producers' pockets.

Increased use of quantity discounts is an especially good way to increase milk sales from the farmers' standpoint, Bartlett points out, because farmers get more money from fluid milk than from milk in other forms.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

There were 105,567 civilian employees of the federal government in Illinois in 1953; 48,982 on the State of Illinois payroll; 198,221 employees of Illinois local governments; a total of 346,770 government employees in Illinois supported by the taxpayers.

The number of government employees in Illinois has increased by 15,645 since 1950. Of this total increase, 14,306 were local government employees, 632 were state government employees, 707 were federal employees.

Employees of Illinois school districts increased by 10,547 between 1950 and 1953; of counties by 4,336; by special districts, including townships, by 71. Employees of Illinois cities dropped by 648.

There was one government employee in Illinois in 1950 for every ten non-government workers in Illinois in 1950.

Government is big business. It's getting bigger every day.

Illinois Bond Sales

In the month of May sales of Series E and H bonds were $34,187, 173, an increase of 9% over sales in May 1953. In the first five months of this year sales of these series have totaled $205,110,212 which represents 44.9% of the quota for the year of $457,300,000.

Proper canoeing techniques are demonstrated by Olympic champion Steve Lysak in a new color movie, entitled "Paddle A Safe Canoe," just released. The above scenes from the film, which was produced in cooperation with American Canoe Association, show: (1) correct method of boarding a canoe, grabbing both gunwales while lifting foot nearest craft in first; (2) safest way to paddle is from kneeling position just forward of the thwart—even though seats are provided; and "shaking out" a capsized canoe by (3) grasping nearest gunwale and (4) depressing until craft is almost vertical, then pushing canoe away using scissors kick at same time. The 14-minute film may now be obtained on a free loan basis from Aetna's public education department at Hartford, Conn., or through the company's local representative.

FOUR YEARS OF
SUCCESSFUL COURTSHIP

Four years ago last June, Ed Rahifs and Albert Heine, two fast friends went together to visit Henry Volkening's daughters. They were soon smitten with the ladies' charms and continued to spark them at every opportunity. Ed's love ripened fastest. He and the second daughter sealed their life contract two years ago. Albert was not so fast, but his affections grew warmer, like the weather, and culminated July 11, 1909, in the marriage of Miss Emma Volkening, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Volkening, of Schaumburg to Albert Heine, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heine.

The ceremony was solemnized by Pastor Rev. J. H. Ellerbrake at Emmanuel Evangelical church, Sunday, at 10 o'clock a.m. The charming bride was attired in a handsome cream silk messaline gown with point lace embroidery. She wore a long white veil and carried cream white roses. The bridesmaids, Misses Minnie Stahlhut of Edwardsville, Ill., Lydia Heine and Alvina Volkening of Kansas were pale blue silk dresses and carried pink roses. The groom and his attendants, Messrs. Louis Heine, Henry Volkening and Henry Nerge were well mated and looked supremely happy as they had good reason to be on such an occasion. Lizzie Volkening and Carrie Nerge were the flower girls and carried carnations. The wedding procession was led by three double carriages drawn by spanking fast teams and driven by Emil Nerge, Willie Volkening and August Hecht whose fine turnouts were handsomely bedecked with plumes and rosettes of blue and white ribbons. A sumptuous feast was spread at the home of the groom's parents where about thirty invited families celebrated the happy event in a quiet social way. Mr. and Mrs. Heine had the wedding cards printed and had expected to invite 125 families and make it a grand affair, but the recent death of the groom's uncle August Heine, changed their cherished plans.

The happy couple were the recipients of many and beautiful presents such as clock, cut glass and silverware, solid silver knives and forks, a large family bible from the groom's parents, table linen, bedding, etc. This being the busy season, the groom will continue to superintend the work on his father's farm which is to be their future home. The will take their wedding trip later.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Hot tempered people who flare up every time they are cornered by an argument, their "principles" are endangered, or their desires thwarted remind me of animals which have been trapped or cornered. Such people have formed a habit of snarling and snapping when things don't go their way sometimes because they are at a loss to know what else to do.

Through the years they have learned that most people, like animals, seek to avoid trouble. They have learned that they will be handled with kid gloves if they show a temper, and can get many things without even a struggle because others will give in to avoid an argument.

THE HOT TEMPERED individual gets his way often when he does not deserve it, just because he is so ornery. But often I think some people pop off because they are afraid, and seek to frighten off their antagonist rather than to win him with logic or kindness.

Hot tempered people are thorns in the side of humanity; but they have good points as well. Sometimes a temper tantrum helps to spur otherwise easy going people into action, and gets things done which otherwise might never get accomplished. Sometimes a hot temper is the spur that starts an individual perking and gets him doing things which often benefit the whole community, or may change the course of his whole life. Sometimes a burst of anger clarifies the atmosphere.

IF I WERE given the choice between having a hot tempered person, or one of those cold, calculating persons who are so secretive and deep for a friend, I would take the fellow with the popoff valve; because at least I would know where I stood with him, and these silent, brooding persons are always an enigma.

I once had a hot tempered friend who upon occasion called me every thing he could think of. But he gave me an insite into myself that enabled me to clear up habits of thinking and action for which I owe him a great deal of gratitude. I think, though, that I would have learned just as much from him if he had been kindly and patient about it, the help he gave would have been much less painful, and I would have loved him more.

Bits O' Business

New York savings banks sold some $7.5 million of low-interest securities to invest in the New York Thruway issue ... New claims for unemployment compensation declined in June ... Controls on corn production will not mean higher prices, if quotations on future contracts for corn delivery a year from now can be trusted ... Coal miners have started their annual vacation; carloadings of the big bituminous carriers will fall for the next two weeks.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Arlington Heights may now point to itself with pride as the city with the biggest Saturday traffic jam. No metropolis ever had a peachier mess than Campbell street last week end. It is not for us to make a positive statement that the two way streets are to blame. We have to consider that during the racing season, the population swells a bit. However, we never had it so tough when we were a one way outfit. We are adopting the wait and see attitude. There is really no other course open to us, is there?

When women travel, even small women, they seem to be inclined to take everything except the kitchen stove. There has been much jumping on suitcases these last weeks Then when the things are finally shut for good, there is just that last minute dab of stuff that cannot be left at home. This entails opening the overstuffed little rascals up, putting in something essential like the kitchen sink, and jumping on them again. Wonderful exercise.

Then, after they get where they are going, they take pen in hand and start writing home for things. These items that they have forgotten are necessary. How can our small one who is at camp get along without a plastic drinking glass, the kind that bends? Until we rushed out and purchased same, we had visions of her either doing without or ruggedly drinking from her cupped hands. Of course, the camp did not have this item on their list of essentials but anyone can make a mistake.

At least one male member of our family has made the discovery that men on a stag party talk just as much and just as much nonsense as women at a hen thing do. It has long been our contention that men are just as big gossips and just as noisy as the female of the species. We have had to keep this belief locked away as it sent any male into spasms of derisive laughter.

The belief that women do most of the talking has a good hold on the public and yet all the great orators and most of the voluble politicians are male.

Have we made our point? We'll bet we haven't convinced a single male and the derisive laughter arising from our spouse has sent us back into our shell. Let them have their little conceits, ladies, we know what we know.

School Solution

With all the building going on these days — and with the ever-increasing birth rate, the problem of adequate schools is greater than ever. We are past the time when we can wait to do something about it — the time to act is NOW. Many people do not know that the Herzog-Kunse development along the railroad tracks at Cumberland is in the Mt. Prospect school district, and that all those children will be coming to our already overcrowded schools. There are many other developments the size of this one going up in various sections of the town, and something must be done immediately.

As the mother of three children, this is a very real problem to me personally, and I have given it a great deal of thought. I have come up with what I think is a good way to alleviate the condition to a great extent, and something which can be started immediately without too much trouble.

RATHER THAN WAIT until there is enough money to build a huge super-duper school (and we all know this time will not come in our lifetime) why not start on a smaller scale in a manner such as this. Build duplex type buildings — and on the main floor there is room for two good-sized classrooms. Upstairs there could be two 2-bed room apartments which could be rented out to teachers and other working couples. The school building is only used about seven or at the most, eight hours a day and the rest of the time it stands empty. During almost three months in the summer it stands empty too. It would seem that with rentals of about $100.00 per apt. (more or less) the upkeep and maintenance of the buildings would be covered, and the burden on the taxpayers lessened.

Wherever a contractor starts a project of houses (and that group is increasing daily) four or more of these buildings could be put up (with some help from him). The children would be going to schools closer to home— at least in the lower grades — the teachers would have adequate housing should they need it, and the cost of smaller buildings such as I have described would be so much lower. With rent helping to defray the maintenance and heating costs, the taxpayer's burden would be lessened.

THIS SOUNDS like a simple solution to a big problem, but I honestly think it is worthwhile and should be given more than a little thought by our village officials and the school board. In fact, it is still early enough for at least several of these buildings to be finished before school starts in September, and this would eliminate, in part at least, the need for shifts which at this time is inevitable.

When children in the same family are attending school at different times, we lose something very important — feeling of belonging to a family. They cannot go to school together — and more important they cannot attend social activities and spend free time together. One must go to bed earlier in order to get up early enough to get to school for the early shift, while another may be able to sleep late. Mother cannot have any schedule because the entire family will not be home at the same time. This is a very real danger to family life—and is not what we wanted when we assumed big mortgages, etc. to buy homes for our families. Shifts are a real problem to teachers, particularly to the married women with children of their own. As a result of shifts many of our best teachers may be forced to resign.

I have discussed this idea with several friends and neighbors and it seems to meet with the approval of each and every one of them.

Disaster Relief

During the past few weeks some misunderstanding has arisen about the Disaster Relief Service of the American Red Cross. Certainly the generous contributor-members of this world's largest Red Cross Chapter deserve to have the facts about the services which their support of Red Cross makes possible.

Disaster relief is one of the major, official responsibilities Congress has obligated Red Cross to carry out.

All assistance and supplies given to disaster victims by Red Cross are provided free, not loaned, and no repayment is ever or has ever been asked, expected, or accepted.

In the Chicago area alone last year, Red Cross aided 1,967 victims of 361 disasters. The record shows that 10,257 garments, 633 pairs of shoes, 1154 days of shelter, and 4,068 meals were provided to these victims - free of any charge whatsoever.

ALL SUCH Red Cross disaster relief is given on the basis of acute need, not loss. Disaster relief funds obtained through voluntary contributions cannot - and should not - be used to replace losses. Voluntary gifts for disaster relief purposes are given in response to human suffering and human need. It is the aim of Red Cross disaster volunteers and staff to provide the kind of help any individual citizen would want to extend to his neighbor stricken by disaster.

In widespread national disasters, such as tornado or the current Iowa floods, the resources of National Red Cross disaster relief and many other chapters are provided to the stricken area, and long-range rehabilitation of victims - helping them to resume their role as self-sufficient members of their community - may go on for many months after the initial disaster headlines.

In Red Cross disaster relief headquarters, the following sign is posted:

"Assistance given to disaster sufferers is given, not loaned, to meet need, not loss. It is provided for by the voluntary contributions from the American people. No disaster service or supplies are being sold by the Red Cross. If anyone asks you to pay for these services or supplies, please report the facts to your nearest Red Cross office."

THE CHICAGO Red Cross chapter has 48 volunteer doctor-nurse teams trained and equipped by Red Cross to handle mass casualties in major civilian disaster. There are 291 trained disaster representatives - all volunteers - on call at any time of day or night to give immediate aid to the victims of disasters which occur in their communities.

The citizens of the Chicago area have every right to be proud of the tireless capable work which these volunteers are performing.

Should there be further questions by any reader of your newspapers about these Red Cross services, a call, letter, or visit to their Chicago Chapter, 529 S. Wabash, WAbash 2-7850, will be welcome.

Civil Defense

The plan of the DuPage county civil defense corps and the reports of the execution of the plan, together with the publicity by the press, on the nationwide civil defense exercise of June 14, have been reviewed in this office.

You and your associates are to be commended for the success you have achieved in this exercise. The plan of your civil defense corps was a brilliant conception of what was desired by the federal civil defense administration. The reports at hand show that superb results were achieved in all of your departments of civil defense.

Westgate

The dog owners in Arlingdale do not allow their dogs to run without being on a leash. Why do Westgate dog woners bring their pets into the Arlingdale Subdivision, and allow them to run at will? We, too, are in the city limits. You are violating the law to let dogs run. We also take great pride in our yards and dislike having dogs in them.

Little League

The article in a recent publication of your newspaper by the Dad of a Little Leaguer made reference to a "rhubarb" in the write-up of a recent game between the Cardinals and Dodgers.

I am sure that those responsible for the administration of the Little League feel that the winning of games and proficiency at the sport are secondary to providing a clean, wholesome, and safe recreation for the youth of the community. The use of the term "rhubarb" and the implication that anything other than "amicable" relationships exist between the managers has no basis of fact. This type of publicity may make the turnstiles click in professional baseball but has no place in Little League baseball.

The people of Arlington Heights who contributed a large portion of the support to the Little League through the Community Chest have, I believe, the right to expect its supervision to conform with the ideals and objectives for which it was organized. Beyond this it is also the responsibility of those who manage the teams to consider the safety of the boys at all times and make decisions accordingly.

Those of us who have had the privilege of working in the Little League firmly believe it is a fine program for our youth. Let us help strengthen and support it—not destroy it.

Plan Emergency March Of Dimes For August, Need 20 Million

An emergency March of Dimes campaign will be held in Cook County August 16-31, Willard K. Jaques, county chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced today.

THE COUNTY drive will be part of a nation-wide campaign during the same period for a $20 million emergency polio-fighting fund.

Both the local and national appeals are necessary to forestall a threatened shortage of funds for aiding polio sufferers, Jaques said.

"Unless more money is made available, the local chapter is certain to be faced with the problem later this year of insufficient funds for providing adequate care of polio patients," he declared.

Jaques said the shortage was traceable to the multi-million dollar polio prevention program undertaken this year by the National Foundation.

"A large share of the money which normally would be used to aid polio patients had to be used instead to finance this tremendous program," he explained.

"In previous years our chapter has been able to turn to the national organization for financial help in the final months of the year.

"THIS YEAR, because of the Foundation's new obligations and commitments, that will not be possible."

The polio vaccine trials and the gamma globulin program to provide temporary immunity against polio are costing the National Foundation $26,500,000, Jaques pointed out.

Although the March of Dimes last January raised a record $1,251,285 in Cook County, the local Chapter retained only one-third of the amount.

In previous years, one-half of total March of Dimes receipts remained in the county.

Of the two-thirds turned over this year to the National Foundation, one-third was for the polio prevention program and the other third for the Foundation's regular program of research, education and financial aid, Jaques pointed out.

He said the county's $417,095 share falls some $85,000 short of satisfying the local Chapter's 1954 budget.

"THIS BUDGET is based on an incidence of 1,000 old and new polio cases in 1954," Jaques said. "In the event of an epidemic or near-epidemic (1600 cases or more) this year, our problem would be more acute."

Although new cases of infantile paralysis in Cook County number only 18 this year as against 38 at this time in 1953, he said it was "much too early to predict what will happen during the coming polio season."

"We are confident that the people of Cook County will respond generously to this special appeal," Jaques declared.

"With the vaccine, the victory over infantile paralysis in the near future is a possiblilty.

Propose DeKalb College Have Practice Teaching Campus At Fox Lake

A proposal that Northern State Teachers college at DeKalb obtain the state conservation school camp on Fox Lake as a field campus for practice teaching has been made by school authorities in Lake Villa and Grant townships.

The conservation camp is seen as a relief for overcrowded schools in the fast growing Grant and Lake Villa township school districts if it can be converted into a school and be operated by the college as a laboratory in training teachers.

Whether it would be purchased by the school districts or by the college was not stated.

Northwest Highway Widening At Barrington Proceeding On Schedule

Hope that the north 24-foot slab of the northwest highway, U. S. 14, which was completed from Main street to Hough street in Barrington, could be opened this week to relieve traffic congestion will not be realized.

E. A. Meyer, head of the construction company having the contract for rebuilding the road from Barrington to Fox River Grove, said they would continue with the north slab and then work back towards Barrington.

Reports that the road builders would complete the two lanes through Barrington before proceeding west were quashed by Mr. Meyer, who said that the present work would have to cure 30 days before they could go on it with their heavy mixers to pour the second slab.

From Exmoor ave. northwest the pavement will be divided and mixers can be worked from the unpaved center parkway so that they will be able to turn around and continue with the second slab immediately. The first work will be sufficiently cured when the village is reached on the return trip, Meyer said, so that there will be no delay.

Best estimates place the earliest possible opening date at the middle of August.

WINDOW SILL TIPS

Skimping on surface preparation of sills frequently leads to application of too much paint which later cracks and scales. If heavy sand-papering and scraping do not give a smooth, uniform surface, remove the paint with paint remover, putty knife and steel wool. Apply a coat of well-thinned paint to any cracks or spaces, then fill with putty or caulking compound to prevent rain and condensed moisture from entering frame.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Do you recommend patching a leaky roof?

A—Not if the roof is old. The leaks you've already discovered are a sure sign that others will soon develop . The only economical way to repair an old roof is to recover it. Asphalt shingles properly applied, assure a weather-tight, fire-resistant roof that will see many years of service.

Q—How can I remove mildew from the outside walls of my house?

A—It can probably be removed with a mild alkaline solution such as trisodium phosphate or washing soda, according to American Builder magazine. This process may have to be repeated every few months until you repaint. When you do repaint, be sure to include a mildewcide in the paint.

Q—How can carpenter ants be eliminated from a house?

A—Locate the nest and spray it with carbon tetrachloride. Don't use kerosene or gasoline because these fluids are flammable and their use indoors is a fire hazard.

Q—How can a small table lamp be altered so that it will give a larger area of light?

A—Cement a block of wood to the base to raise the lamp. Then attach a wider shade. The result: a reading or sewing lamp.

Q—What is the best angle at which to operate an electric drill adapted as a sander?

A—Slightly less than half the sanding disc should touch the surface for the most effective operation. This means an angle of 30 to 45 degrees.

Perennials Have Good Points, But Have Some Bad Ones, Too

by OTTO H. AMLING

Perennials give us beautiful flowers, year after year, with a minimum of work. But, like lots of other things in life, perennials have their good points and their drawbacks. Chief among the latter is the relatively short blooming season of our otherwise faithful perennials. Unlike annuals that, once they come into bloom, keep right on flowering until frost puts them to sleep, perennials for the most part have a blooming period of two to three weeks; some less than that.

So it doesn't do to go overboard for all of one variety. No, it is better — in limited space — To have a relatively few of each and selected on the basis of blooming chronology. First the crocus, followed in approximate order by hyacinths, tulips, oriental poppies, iris, and phlox.

OF COURSE, there are endless other varieties of perennials and I am thinking, here of bleeding heart, lupine, columbine, and such. These all are suited to Chicagoland gardens. So are some of the lily family. But most lilies are too delicate for this area's winters. That's true of many other tempting perennials and it explains why you may see many varieties of penennials in nationally circulated catalogs that are not offered by local growers.

In autumn when most other flowers have called it quits, that gorgeous perennial — the garden 'mum — comes into its glory. The mum is not only handsome and available in a range of colors but it can be transplanted at any month in the year. Growers have 'mums, everblooming roses, and other late bloomers available in paper pots. The growth cycle of such potted perennials has not been interrupted. They may be transplanted to your garden at any time.

I'll again conclude this little talk with you by appending some typical questions:

Q. Is Canterbury Bell a perennial?

A. It is a bi-annual. Like Foxglove, it requires a year to grow from seed into a plant. The following year it blooms and then dies. Buy one-year plants and treat them as annuals.

Q. What types of insects attack perennials?

A. Underground, sucking and chewing types. Perennials are not too greatly bothered by insects but do need interval spraying. Your garden-supply dealer can advise you.

Q. My lupine buds are covered with hundreds of minute, light-green bugs. What are they? How can I destroy them?

A. They're aphids and will destroy the blossoms by sucking. Give aphids a bath of nicotine, pyrethrum or rotenone — Applied wet or dry. Be careful, though, not to burn blossoms or foliage by too strong an application.

Subject: "Honeymoon House No. 2"

The Honeymooners are not seeing eye-to-eye about their refrigerator and stove. Obviously, they can not take half of their total 4-room $1,000 budget and spend it on one room ... Betty is all enthused about the Automatic Defrosters - the bigger the better! She says she'd like to go back to her job long enough to earn one. Bob wants his bride at home - and is talking about time-payments.

Me? I'm strictly neutral; it's their problem. However, I did say, "Look, Kids - you started out with a wise decision - to live within your means. There's a principle here that may involve future decisions about money ... Perhaps you should consider this alternative." (At my age, one is prone to wax dogmatic!).

I then suggested that they purchase a good used refrigerator and if they looked through the classified columns of Paddock Publications, they will probably find the answer.

There may also be a good buy for a stove, if not, I suggest a new apartment size which has full size oven and four burners and only takes up half of your space.

If the stove and refrigerator prices can be held in line, there is a small sturdy wrought iron kitchen stool with foot rest available to match the breakfast set at $16.00.

Speaking of chairs, we have been searching for "good buys" like crazy ... Betty wants to be able to seat and serve eight at one end of the living room ... The problem of storage is also involved - and we had already decided that the eight chairs would be stored - and very usefully - throughout the house. When we compared prices, we found that the wrought iron chairs - at $7.50 each - were far and away the best bargain we had come across, so we are ordering eight of them. They will look much better around her "company" table than a miscellaneous assortment and since she is using touches of wrought-iron throughout the house, any of the chairs can be used in any of the rooms. We are making only one differentiation - the four chairs in the kitchen have the peachy-pink tweed vinyl - and the other four will be upholstered in chartreuse tweed ... An alternative choice would have been folding chairs — but Bob says he has never yet found a really comfortable folding bridge-type of chair and he is glad that this selection will also take care of two tables of bridge. They have lots of style - are strong and light-weight.

The deeper they (Bob and Betty) get into the Budget Home plans and the more they realize how many, many things are needed to set up housekeeping - the more selective they become over the various kinds of merchandise from which they will make eventual choices. All of the money gets "spent" half a dozen times before it is really spent; there is no place here for "impulse buying" ... We have had quite a few discussions about lamps and lighting. For really comfortable living, there must be enough light for various uses - and it must be in the right places. (The house comes with a minimum adequate supply of outlets and fixtures.) A handsome wedding present lamp will be the one important lamp in the living room - but others are needed - and throughout the house. We found a clever brass number, styled with just a bit of wrought-iron, having a good-sized fibre shade (not a "spot") and it is also a "planter" for greens. The shade can be "doodled" to make it match different rooms and we are ordering six of these - solving the direct light problem very inexpensively at $5 per lamp. (To be continued next week)

Triangle Motors remodeled showroom on Milwaukee ave. in Wheeling where the new Packard may be seen, as well as prizes won, this weekend.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

At the recent meeting of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church an action was taken which for many of us signalized the end of an era.

The board of foreign missions was given permission to make a study preparatory to changing its name. The age of foreign missions is ended. The national churches have come of age.

Henceforth, we shall not send out foreign missionaries. We shall send fraternal workers where they are requested to churches which have need of specific assistance.

* * *

THERE IS IN "foreign missions" a hint of the condescension which is found in Stevenson's child, reflecting on the life of children in other lands,

"Such a life is very fine,
But it's not so nice as mine;
You must often, as you trod,
Have wearied not to be abroad.

"You have curious things to eat,
I am fed on proper meat,
You must dwell beyond the foam,
But I am safe and live at home."

The term "missionary" has taken on a paternalistic connotation. Properly, it is one who has been sent to do a job. But it has become confused with the concept of the "great white father" who knows what is good for the ignorant and will guide them to that good however they may dislike the idea of being "guided."

It may be illustrated by some of the old-style missionaries who thought the most important thing to do in the Pacific islands was to clothe the women. So they promptly caught tuberculosis because the Mother Hubbards they wore did not dry in the tropic damp.

THE CHURCHES that were established by foreign missions have come of age. They have self-supporting churches, their own seminaries, their own ministers, their own printing presses and theological and Biblical publications.

When they come to Evanston, to the World Assembly of Churches, they will come as individuals representing the church. There will be no spirit of discrimination against those whose churches have been supported and encouraged by older churches.

Paris Called 'City Of Missing Men' But Police Don't Worry, Just Wait

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Europeans call Paris "The City of Missing Men". About twenty thousand people disappear every year from the French capital, and of these more than thirty per cent are never accounted for.

Among those who are found by the police or who return voluntarily, adolescents make up a substantial part. Many girls between the ages of fourteen and seventeen leave home in the springtime —almost as regularly as the bell ringing of Notre Dame Cathedral, say French investigators. Nobody, even the children, can resist Paris in the springtime.

THESE YOUNGSTERS, however, even though they do account for twenty-five per cent of all disappearances, do not pose a big police problem. The French police know that these young girls always return home sooner or later of their own will, "so why worry?" they ask.

The biggest percentage of missing men and women come under the heading of "matrimonial discontents". They get fed-up with their mates and then just suddenly vanish.

NEXT IN FREQUENCY are those who are bored with routine. They catch the St. Lazarre metro or Bus number thirty-eight every day at the same time for fifteen years, and then they secretly decide that a change will do them good. They don't dare tell anybody for fear of encountering too much opposition. One day they are gone, and in spite of police and private investigators, they are never heard from again.

It is estimated that of the six-thousand non-returns, only about one per cent are found as victims of foul play. If they are not suicide cases that constantly turn up in the Bois de Boulogne, then the Seine river releases thm.

MANY OF THOSE who disappear are victims of amnesia. Many others are just searching for more liberty, while a good percentage, claim police investigators, are merely finding some unusual satisfaction in playing the star role in a mystery story. They see an importance in themselves as objects of concern and search, and this, for most of them, is the first time in their lives that they have received such sympathetic attention.

Doctors and lawyers, it has been discovered, very rarely do this disappearing act. Farmers and merchants are never on the lists for more than a few days. Ordinary laborers and office workers make up the largest part of these social delinquents. They are usually between the ages of thirty to forty, in good health, and without too much money in the pockets.

THE FRENCH police will work on a case — with the same energy that is applied to everything else in Continental life — for three years. After that, the case is closed.

If the person hasn't turned up within that period, then the police consider it a case of voluntary evasion, and close the files believing that the man or woman would probably be happier if left alone.

Soil Condition Important To Good Tree Care

The comfort of his guests is the responsibility of every host, even when the guests stay on for years and years.

Take trees, for example. The longer they live, the greater the pleasure they will give their human host if he cares for them properly. He can't do much about such things as temperature, humidity and other weather conditions, of course, but he can and should see that new plantings are assured of suitable soil conditions.

One of the first things to consider is whether a tree has the right soil for healthy growth, advises Davey tree experts. Different trees require different soil conditions.

Some, like the Jack pine, can survive on rocky hillsides or in rather barren sandy areas where less hardy varieties would perish. Others, like the pin oak and Austrian pine, can grow in heavy clay soils. But such rugged types are the exception rather than the rule and would certainly grow as well or better under more favorable conditions.

Sugar maple, tulip, poplar, white pine and Norway spruce thrive in deep sandy loam. A few shrubs, such as azalea and rhododendron, demand acid and will die if placed in alkaline soil.

If a home owner wishes a tree for which his soil is unsuited, he sould be willing to spend the time, money and effort required to create a compatible environment. This can be done by creating the proper soil conditions. Adding sandy loam top soil and adequate drainage to the home grounds, for instance, would help many varieties of trees towards a vigorous growth and long life which otherwise might be denied them.

Newsstand Of The Week

All sold out could be applied to Smith Food Mart at 21 West Railroad avenue in Palatine, one of the 58 newsstands selling over 7,000 copies of Paddock Publications each week. Cliff and Mary Smith sold their business to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Kirchhoff of Palatine Wednesday of last week.

Both Cliff and Mary are graduates of Palatine high school, class of '33, and opened the new delicatessen store five years ago amidst dozens of friends. Cliff previously held jobs as Pullman conductor and city fireman.

Cliff and Mary have three sons, Robert, 12, James, 10, and William, 8. Future plans? Opening another business in the near future as soon as a well-earned vacation is history.—Staff Photo.

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of the late William H. Schwankoff who passed away one year ago July 2, 1953.
A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon His love had given;
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in heaven.
The children of the late
William H. Schwankoff

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincerest thanks to all those who were so kind and sympathetic during our recent period of bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to convey our deepest heartfelt thanks and appreciation to those who were so thoughtful and considerate during our recent sorrow.

In The Future

Wooden doors are now offered on a steel kitchen cabinet line at an extra 10 to 15 per cent ... Short housewives can use those top shelves now with the help of a swing-down step ... Form-fitting plastic lenses in a new kind of goggles afford protection against corrosive liquids as well as flying objects ... A new lid-lifter claims to eliminate twisting or bending jar tops, so they can be used to reseal the containers ... New plastic dispensing tubes bounce back into shape after being squeezed, ending the old argument as to who squeezed the toothpaste in the middle.
